Coolidge's Vacation.

Digging For Money.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

THICK snow along the Union Pacific tracks here in Wyoming and herds of elk in Grosventre and Snake river districts are threatened with starvation. The state will feed them.

West of the Utah boundary line a gray wolf stood watching the train. Standing stiff as a statue, romantic in solitude, his purpose was prosaic He hoped something to eat might be thrown from the dining car as it flew past.

Mile away, on the Mojave desert, crows gathered along the track to meet the Santa Fe express and fly miles behind the train, watching the dining car.

GOVERNOR EMERSON of Wyoming, invites President Coolidge to come here and fish on his vacation next summer. The President replies that he wants to come, but cannot make his vacation plans "for some time yet." But he ought to accept Governor Emerson's invitation, get a car and travel over a few thousand miles of this western country, northwest to Seattle; south to San Diego; back to the high Sierras; where they fish for trout without barbs on hooks, to save time taking off the fish at the rate of 15 a minute. This part of the country likes President Coolidge, and he would like this country.

IN HIS pre-Lenten advice to priests in the parish of Rome, Pope Pius expresses vigorously his lack of sympathy with the Fascist government. Without mentioning the word "fascismo," he disapproves the idea that man is made for the state, not the state for the man. "Man," says Pope Pius, "is not and never can be a means. He is the end. Not, of course, the ultimate supreme end, which is God, but in the creation man is really the end and center about which everything is organized."

That reminder is needed in this country, where some industrial organizations have come to look upon men as mere cogs in great machinery and where the men are willing to accept that view, if you give them $5 a day and up.

WHERE money is, men will dig. It was proved in Italy, before architects had learned how to make great domes like that on St. Peter's hold themselves up as they rose in the air. One dome was built and filled with earth to support it, as it rose, until the sides met at the top. Putting in the earth would be much less expensive than taking it out. So they mixed the earth beneath the dome with small coins of a total value much less than the cost of removing the earth. When the dome was finished the population was told it could carry away the coin-

Review-Tribune Has Booklet About Vegetable Gardens

The true gardener believes in preparedness. With the arrival of the first spring days he is ready for his annual plunge into garden work.

Before winter has gone, the home gardiener begins his study of seed catalogues, plans the arrangement of his garden, decides on his crops, and places his order for seeds and garden implements.

One of the greatest possible helps in gardening is the government Garden Book which our Washington Bureau has for distribution.

A plot of ground, even if it's only a city back yard, plus this book and a little work, means fresh vegetables all summer long. Enclose four cents for postage and handling charge.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY SESSION CALLED AFTER MURDER SUSPECT TALKS

$1,000,000 Blaze Sweeps Cuban Town As Firemen Quit

HAVANA, Cuba, March 5.—While firemen refuse to work because they have been unpaid for ten months, fire is today sweeping the wharf sections of the city of Matanzas.

Two warehouses and the wharves of the Munson line have already been destroyed. Fifty thousand bags of sugar were lost.

The fire threatens to spread to the business section.

SCHOOL BOARD CLOSES SPORTS FIELD DUMP

West End Residents Protest Against Nauseating Odors.

NEW FILL PLAN

Will Ask Railroad Company to Deposit Cinders.

As the result of protests filed by residents of the West End, the Patterson Field dump will be closed today upon orders of the board of education.

Flagrant violation of the order which prohibited the dumping of garbage, paper, boxes and other inflammable material was assigned as the reason for the action.

Negotiations have been opened with the Pennsylvania railroad company for filling the field. The board sought to interest railroad company more than a year ago but at that time fills were being made in the yards at Mingo and also along the cut-off between Bayard and Canton. Inasmuch as both jobs have been completed another effort will be made to seek the co-operation of the company

Filling of the ground started about three years ago after the site was purchased by the late Monroe Patterson and turned over to the school board for an athletic field. The board later employed a dumpmaster.

Because of the nature of the fill, the grounds frequently were afire and the fire department made many trips to extinguish blazes which caused offensive odors. Despite the vigilance of the dumpmaster filling materials which were prohibited were frequently deposited.

West End residents charged that the dump was infested with rats and vermin and that the odors emanating from the field during the summer were nauseating.

The dumpmaster will likely be retained for a short time to enforce the order.

E. L. Mills, Attorney for Prisoner, Who Also Defended McDermott and Rudner, Withdraws From Case.

SECOND LAWYER QUITS DEFENSE

Man Who Faces Trial on March 16 Closeted During Morning With Prosecutor Harter and Stenographer.

CANTON, O., March 5.—After questioning Louis Mazer, Canton underworld character, third man indicted for the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, Prosecutor Henry Harter, Jr., today called a special session of the Stark county grand jury for Tuesday next.

Mazer is awaiting trial which was scheduled to start here March 16, next.

Youthful Attorney for Accused.

Harter, Mazer and a stenographer were closeted for several hours this morning. Mazer, according to unconfirmed reported circulated immediately afterward, was said to have dictated a confession implicating other persons in the Mellett murder, but these reports could not be officially confirmed.

Another startling development in the case came this morning when E. L. Mills, attorney for Mazer who also defended both Pat McDermott and Ben Rudner, now serving life sentences, announced his withdrawal from the defense for Mazer. George Spooner, well know criminal lawyer of Cleveland, aso withdrew.

David Kramer, youthful Canton attorney, is the only remaining member of Mazer's defense counsel.

CINCINNATI, March 5.—Two persons died of asphyxiation within an hour here late Friday night. They were Mrs. Naomi Kuhn, 26, of Rising Sun, Ind., and Roy Stone, Cincinnati. Both of the dead persons lived in the same rooming house.

CONDEMNED LAD ACCUSES WOMAN IN RICHLAND COUNTY CRIME

George W. Thoma, 23, Mansfield, Protests His Innocence.

TO DIE APRIL 8

Convicted of Killing Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Greenawald.

BY C. H. HADDOX.

COLUMBUS, March 8.—With the angel of death, seemingly, just in the offing, George W. Thoma, 23, Mansfield, stood beside the door of his cell in Ohio penitentiary today.

Protestir his innocence, the young condemned prisoner voiced the accusation that a young woman, an acquaintance of his, had either committed the double murder for which he had been sentenced to die, or had induced some one else to do it.

Facing probable electrocution on April 8, next, as decreed by the trial judge, Thoma was received at the big state prison December 23, last, convicted of murdering Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Greenawald, Richland county.

"Not Concerned" About Future.

A striking specimen of robust health, Thoma, in his shirt sleeves, and with a broad smile lighting up his countenance, convincingly announced that he was "not concerned" about his future

He said he had under consideration the advisability of making a public statement specifically charging this woman with having murdered Mr. and Mrs. Greenawald.

Thoma asserted that other persons would support his claim that the woman whom he blamed for the murders had not only threatened to kill Mr and Mrs. Greenawald, but had informed him of her intention to take the life of another Mansfield girl if Thoma didn't "stop going with her."

"She knows she is safe, as long as I keep my mouth shut," declared Thoma.

"But, if they 'burn' me, there will be just one less, but they will have taken the life of an innocent man," Thoma said.

Says He "Shielded Her."

He insisted that he purposely made mis-statements during his trial. He did so, he explained, "to shield her"

Not once, however, did Thomas mention the name of the woman whom he accused.

Stating that his affairs were in the hands of his attorneys, Thmas indicated that he still hoped to escape death in the electric chair. He declared, however, that he did not know what plans his lawyers had made.

Thoma said the first he knew that the murders had been committed was when he entered the house and saw the lifeless bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Greenawald.

Wearing white trousers, he said, he

TAX INCREASES ARE OPPOSED

C. of C. Directors Vote Against State Proposals.

Opposition to proposed increases in corporation and excise taxes as a means of raising revenue to liquidate a deficit in state funds, was expressed by the board of directors of the chamber of commerce in special session last night.

The directors, however, went on record in favor of an increase in the gasoline tax if additional funds are needed.

The executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce recently voted against proposed changes in the corporation and excise taxes, letters being forwarded to state representatives and senators from this district urging that they oppose the bills.

Many letters have been sent from East Liverpool, urging an increased gasoline tax.

50 Cities' Postal Receipts Reflect Era of Prosperity

WASHINGTON, March 5. — Reflecting the general prosperity of the country, postal receipts at 50 selected cities during February totaled $29,298,738.30, as compared with $28,088,427.41 in February last year, an increase of 4.31 per cent, the post office department announced today.

Atlanta, Ga., with an increase of 19.34 percent, led all the cities, followed by Jersey City, N. J., with an increase of 16.38 per cent, and Newark, N. J., with 14.88 per cent.

Four Fire Victims Are Reported on Road to Recovery

Clinton Boso, 20, and his half sisters, Ruth Mayer, 7, and Theima Mayer, 4, who were burned when trapped by fire on the second floor of their home in Cadmus street last Sunday morning, were reported to be recovering at the city hospital today.

Mrs Mary Davis, East Sixth street, who was burned when her dress ignited from an open gas fire last Wednesday morning, was also reported to be convalescent at the hospital.

CHEVROLET CAR REPORTED STOLEN

A 1924 model Chevrolet touring car, belonging to Adrian Azdell, Maplewood, was stolen from its parking place on East Fifth street between 8:30 and 10:30 o'clock last night. The machine carried license plates No. 886-989.

MADAGASCAR'S CHIEF SEAPORT WRECKED, SAYS LONDON REPORT

Devastating Storm Sweeps Tamatave, Once Capital.

STEAMERS CRASH

Island Towns Suffer Property Damage of 100,000,000 Francs.

LONDON, March 5.—The town of Tamatave on the island of Madagascar has been completely wrecked by a cyclone, according to a message to Lloyds today from the steamer General Duchesne. The dispatch coming via Mauritius states that many lives have been lost and property damage of more than 100,000,000 francs has been done.

Tamative is the principal seaport of Madagascar and was formerly the capital of the island. It is fortified and has a population of 7,000.

East Coast is Struck.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, March 5.—Five hundred persons were reported killed today by a devastating cyclone which swept over the island of Madagascar.

News of the Madagascar disaster reached here from Mauritius. The dispatches stated that on Thursday a terrific cyclone struck the east coast of Madagascar, devastating the town of Tamatave where the lives were lost.

The steamers Catinat and Ville de Marseilles are reported to have collided during the cyclone and both were driven ashore.

The steamer Galka has sent a wireless dispatch, stating that it has encountered terrific storms.

Scene of Desolation.

CAPETOWN, March 5.—Scenes of terrible desolation in Tamatave and other towns on the east coast of Madagascar are reported in wireless dispatches received from Port Louis today.

The cyclone which swept Madagascar on Thursday is reported not only to have cost many lives but to have done enormous property damage. Full details are coming in very slowly as the Port Louis wireless station is the only means of communication vailable.

The Tamatave wireless station, the customs sheds, piers and offices are reported to have been destroyed.

Small craft in the harbor were destroyed and the steamer Armanda and the schooner Elizabeth were sunk.

There has been no news from the steamer Seister which put to sea to avoid the cyclone.

Judge W. F. Duncan Views Alley Shed In Injunction Suit

Judge W. F. Duncan, Findlay, presiding in common pleas court, at Lisbon, this week, came to East Liverpool today to view the Crooks alley shed covering a stage and cellar entrance to the American theatre, which the city is seeking to remove.

John Peters, lessee of the theatre, recently was granted a temporary injunction restraining the city from removing the obstruction. Arguments were heard at Lisbon yesterday.

Service-Safety Director Moore claims the shed is a hindrance to traffic.

Although the entire city council and other members of the administration were subpoenaed only three were called by the city. Solicitor Frank Hoover appeared for the city, while Attorney George E. Davidson represented the theatre operators.

Harry W. Brookes Named Manager of Postal Telegraph

Brookes, who is a brother of Attorney Jason H. Brookes, for the past year has been in charge of a Postal office in Buffalo, N. Y.

MRS. CYRUS BURLINGAME, 62, DIES IN HOSPITAL AS RESULT OF BURNS

Funeral Services for Daisy Alley Fire Victim Will be Held Monday Afternoon.

Mrs. Cyrus Burlingame, 62, died in the City hospital yesterday afternoon from burns sustained when her dress ignited from an open gas fire at her home, Grace and Daisy alleys

Mrs. Robert Davidson, 30, her daughter, who was burned in an attempt to beat out the fire with her bare hands, is recovering.

Mrs. Burlingame had resided in East Liverpool since she was a child, coming here with her parents from Rochester, Pa., where she was born.

She is survived by her husband, a Daisy alley carpet cleaner and former liveryman, and four daughters and one son: Mesdames Fred Earl and Robert Davidson, of this city, and Miss Mabel Burlingame, at home; Mrs. Joseph Martin, Cleveland, and Odis Burlingame, near Williamsport, Madison township. One sister, Mrs. Albert Brown of Gardendale, also survives.

Mrs. Burlingame was a member of the First Church of Christ.

The body was removed to the Miller Funeral home, Sixth street, where services will be conducted, probably Monday afternoon.

OPERATION PERFORMED IN HOPES OF SAVING CAVE-IN VICTIM'S LIFE

X-ray Examination Shows Fracture of Twelfth Vertebra in Back of Frank Neilson.

An operation was performed at the city hospital at 11:30 o'clock this morning in an effort to save the life of Frank Neilson, aged about 35, whose back was broken when he was crushed under a fall of slate and rock while digging coal in a mine near his home in the Bell school house district, Thursday afternoon. The operation was performed by Drs. C. H. Bailey and M. D. McCutcheon.

X-ray examination of Neilson's injuries showed the twelfth vertebra to be cracked.

The lower part of Neilson's body has been completely paralyzed.

Neilson, who had been employed in a pottery, has been residing in the country for about three years. He is the father of eight children.

STEAMERS CRASH

Island Towns Suffer Property Damage of 100,000,000 Francs.

LONDON, March 5.—The town of Tamatave on the island of Madagascar has been completely wrecked by a cyclone, according to a message to Lloyds today from the steamer General Duchesne. The dispatch coming via Mauritius states that many lives have been lost and property damage of more than 100,000,000 francs has been done.

Tamative is the principal seaport of Madagascar and was formerly the capital of the island. It is fortified and has a population of 7,000.

East Coast is Struck.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, March 5.—Five hundred persons were reported killed today by a devastating cyclone which swept over the island of Madagascar.

News of the Madagascar disaster reached here from Mauritius. The dispatches stated that on Thursday a terrific cyclone struck the east coast of Madagascar, devastating the town of Tamatave where the lives were lost.

The steamers Catinat and Ville de Marseilles are reported to have collided during the cyclone and both were driven ashore.

The steamer Galka has sent a wireless dispatch, stating that it has encountered terrific storms.

Scene of Desolation.

CAPETOWN, March 5.—Scenes of terrible desolation in Tamatave and other towns on the east coast of Madagascar are reported in wireless dispatches received from Port Louis today.

The cyclone which swept Madagascar on Thursday is reported not only to have cost many lives but to have done enormous property damage. Full details are coming in very slowly as the Port Louis wireless station is the only means of communication vailable.

The Tamatave wireless station, the customs sheds, piers and offices are reported to have been destroyed.

Small craft in the harbor were destroyed and the steamer Armanda and the schooner Elizabeth were sunk.

There has been no news from the steamer Seister which put to sea to avoid the cyclone.

Judge W. F. Duncan Views Alley Shed In Injunction Suit

Judge W. F. Duncan, Findlay, presiding in common pleas court, at Lisbon, this week, came to East Liverpool today to view the Crooks alley shed covering a stage and cellar entrance to the American theatre, which the city is seeking to remove.

John Peters, lessee of the theatre, recently was granted a temporary injunction restraining the city from removing the obstruction. Arguments were heard at Lisbon yesterday.

Service-Safety Director Moore claims the shed is a hindrance to traffic.

Although the entire city council and other members of the administration were subpoenaed only three were called by the city. Solicitor Frank Hoover appeared for the city, while Attorney George E. Davidson represented the theatre operators.

Harry W. Brookes Named Manager of Postal Telegraph

Harry W. Brookes, former telegraph operator with the Pennsylvania Railroad company, has been appointed manager of the Postal Telegraph company here.

Brookes, who is a brother of Attorney Jason H. Brookes, for the past year has been in charge of a Postal office in Buffalo, N. Y.

MRS. CYRUS BURLINGAME, 62, DIES IN HOSPITAL AS RESULT OF BURNS

Funeral Services for Daisy Alley Fire Victim Will be Held Monday Afternoon.

Mrs. Cyrus Burlingame, 62, died in the City hospital yesterday afternoon from burns sustained when her dress ignited from an open gas fire at her home, Grace and Daisy alleys

Mrs. Robert Davidson, 30, her daughter, who was burned in an attempt to beat out the fire with her bare hands, is recovering.

Mrs. Burlingame had resided in East Liverpool since she was a child, coming here with her parents from Rochester, Pa., where she was born.

She is survived by her husband, a Daisy alley carpet cleaner and former liveryman, and four daughters and one son: Mesdames Fred Earl and Robert Davidson, of this city, and Miss Mabel Burlingame, at home; Mrs. Joseph Martin, Cleveland, and Odis Burlingame, near Williamsport, Madison township. One sister, Mrs. Albert Brown of Gardendale, also survives.

Mrs. Burlingame was a member of the First Church of Christ.

The body was removed to the Miller Funeral home, Sixth street, where services will be conducted, probably Monday afternoon.

OPERATION PERFORMED IN HOPES OF SAVING CAVE-IN VICTIM'S LIFE

X-ray Examination Shows Fracture of Twelfth Vertebra in Back of Frank Neilson.

An operation was performed at the city hospital at 11:30 o'clock this morning in an effort to save the life of Frank Neilson, aged about 35, whose back was broken when he was crushed under a fall of slate and rock while digging coal in a mine near his home in the Bell school house district, Thursday afternoon. The operation was performed by Drs. C. H. Bailey and M. D. McCutcheon.

X-ray examination of Neilson's injuries showed the twelfth vertebra to be cracked.

The lower part of Neilson's body has been completely paralyzed.

Neilson, who had been employed in a pottery, has been residing in the country for about three years. He is the father of eight children.

OHIOAN KILLED BY YARD ENGINE

GALION, O., March 5.—Struck by a yard engine, the approach of which he failed to perceive, Frederick Jacobs, 30, a switchman, was instantly killed in the Big Four railroad yards here today.

CHAPTER FIFTY-SIX.

I looked at her doubtfully, hesitating to believe either in the sincerity or depth of her assurance.

"You have been kind to me, Robert," she went on. "You found me at a very awkward moment and you helped me at very considerable risk to yourself, for I was bound to hamper your escape. That was generous. I admire it, and I am grateful. I want to show you my gratitude."

"Thank you for the compliment," I said. "But how do you propose to help me, exactly?"

"If you will give me a promise," she replied, "never to breathe a word of our organization or of your experiences of the last few days to any living soul, I will persuade the Center to take no action against you. I promise you that."

"I am sorry, Patience," I said, "but I do not feel inclined to accept your offer. I am by no means convinced that the danger you mention is quite so serious as you think."

My words annoyed her and her amiable pleading gave way to impatience.

"Then you must be quite incapable of learning a lesson," she snapped. "You've seen the Center at work, and you know that he leaves nothing to chance."

"That's as may be," I returned, "But I am not alarmed."

"Such an attitude is perfectly childish," she exclaimed. "Never once have I known the Center let any one go free who knew anything of himself or his plans. Why, he never even meets the people with whom he has to do business. A man who knows what you know has no chance at all. I doubt if even I could save you. But I would do my best and I believe he would trust your word to be silent."

"I'm sorry," I said, preparing to turn away. "But isn't it just possible that the Center has at last met his match?"

"Not in Mr. Robert Quexter," she retorted. "Men with ten times your brains and not half your knowledge of his plans have made the mistake of thinking themselves able to deal with him. They have lived, but not very long, to regret it."

"I'm ready to believe that your husband has done murder on more than one occasion."

An angry spot came into her cheeks and her eyes flashed.

"He is alone against the world. It's his life or that of the fools who intrude into his plans. They go into it with their eyes open. It's not murder. It's a duel of wits. Take yourself. You are trying to destroy my husband. Can you wonder and be piously horrified if he destroys you instead? And he will. No one outside the inner Ring has any knowledge of the Center or his plans but you. No one but his servants and his lifelong friends has ever seen him as the Center."

"That is not a fact," I objected. "He is even now with a man called Finckelstein, with whom he is doing business openly and in person."

She retorted in a flash.

"Then I wouldn't care to be Finckelstein."

"What do you mean?" I said quickly.

"Finckelstein knows too much. He insisted on a personal meeting. He wanted to see our directors at work. That is against the rules of our organization. Finckelstein was doomed from the moment the Center consented to see him face to face.

This was a new turn of events. For the first in that interview I began to be sincerely alarmed.

"Patience," I said sternly, "tell me what this means. I know more about Finckelstein than you think. He is an agent of the Center's. Why should the Center wish to harm him?"

"I have told you already. He knows too much."

"What does the Center mean to do?"

The Center never tells me of unpleasant things. He merely said that Finckelstein was a suspicious man and insisted on an interview."

"Yes?" I prompted breathlessly.

"He also said that Finckelstein would give him some valuable information and then that Finckelstein would be his guest at the Home."

"Well?" I said, heedless of how I might be betraying an undue interest. "Go on."

"And then he smiled. I have seen that smile before. It means that no time will be lost."

"Nonsense," I said. "You surely don't imagine I am to be scared by hints and fancies of that kind. What will happen to Finckelstein, anyway?"

Finckenstein was in danger, and Finckelstein was Claypole. I must know what was intended.

Patience was too eager herself to notice my agitation. She merely desired to emphasize my peril by telling me of the other man who knew too much.

"If you insist on plain words," she exclaimed, "I should say that the moment Finckelstein gives up the information required by the Center will be his last."

I stood there in silence, trying to appreciate the full significance of what she had told me, staring at her with flushed face and burning eyes as she sat up in bed, facing me. At that moment, however, the door opened to admit the little white-capped lay sister.

"It is time you took your leave of Madame, Monsieur," she said to me. "Madame must rest and sleep if she can, for she has had a cruel blow on the head."

I collected myself sufficiently to bow.

"I was just about to go," I stammered. "I am sure she is in good hands and I know that you will give her every attention."

"You may be sure of that," replied the nun gently, as she glanced towards the bed, into which Patience had collapsed on her entry.

A turned to bid her farewell, but her face was turned to the wall. So I left the room without further speech, and soon found myself outside the Convent and in the Johannplatz.

There I paused, for the moment uncertain what should be my next move. How did the new fact I had just learned from Patience affect the plan in which Cloypole had so carefully instructed me? Was it less sound and infallible than I had thought? As he had outlined to me, provision appeared to have been made for every possibility, but how exactly was it changed by this sudden and devastating intelligence. The Center had determined to kill Finckelstein and Finckelstein was Claypole.

What was I to do? Should I go to the police at Basle and ask them at once to raid Doctor Kurtz's Home and arrest every one on the premises? A moment's reflection showed me that this was impossible. Claypole himself had been unable to get the necessary authority to enable the Basle police to act with sufficient promptitude. Besides, it would take me a long time to explain who I was and the nature of my mission.

Four Charleston Champions Come to Ceramic On Monday

American Title Winners Will Appear in Conjunction With Adolphe Menjou's Picture, "Blonde or Brunette."

The four Charleston champions, winners of the American title, now on a tour of the Keith-Albee circuit, will jump from Baltimore to East Liverpool, Monday, to open a three-day engagement at the Ceramic theatre in conjunction with the Paramount picture, "Blonde or Brunette," starring Adolphe Benjou and Greta Nissen.

These exponents of the art of Terpsichore, possessing all the pep and speed essential, will feature the new craze, "The Black Bottom." The act will be attractively staged.

Can a brunette win a man from a blonde?

That's the question solved by "Blonde or Brunette."

Blondes and brunettes of both sexes will want to see this film because it depicts a battle between two clever women for the love of the same man. Three marriages and two divorces are necessary before the issue is finally settled.

Greta Nissen, the Norwegian beauty who played in "Lost—a Wife" and "The King on Main Street" with Mr. Menjou, is the blonde; Arlette Marchal, a French actress last seen as Jack Holt's leading woman in "Forlorn River," the brunette.

The play, a spicy farce, adapted from the French success, "An Angel Passes," is said to be admirably suited to Menjou's unique capabilities, and one certain to enlarge his circle of admirers.

Men School Teachers Rapidly Decreasing In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, O.—Men school teachers in Cincinnati are rapidly decreasing, according to an announcement made at a meeting of the Men's High School Teachers' association here.

"Because colleges for teachers are graduating few men, the condition is expected to become more pronounced throughout the state," it was said.

Speakers pointed out that the change in ratio of men to women teachers here was largely brought about by a rule adopted by the local board of education making the salary of women teachers equal to that of men.

TEETH IN RELATION TO HEALTH

PYORRHEA

(Editor's note—The following is the fifth of a series of articles on various phases of dentistry prepared by a representative of the East Liverpool-Wellsville Dental society.)

By Dr. R. R. Bode.

Of all the diseases to which the human mouth is subject, except simple decay of the teeth, pyorrhea is the most prevalent.

Pyorrhea is a disease of the gums, and may occur in a mouth free from cavities or decay, and in which the teeth seem to be normal. Though more often it is found in mouths which do not receive the proper care and attention.

There are numerous causes of pyorrhea, the most common of which are: First—an accumulation or deposit of calculus (tarter) around the gum margin of the teeth which may cause a continual irritation to the gum tissue and may result in infection and destruction of the bony process which supports the teeth, finally causing them to loosen in their sockets. The second cause is irregular or crooked teeth, or the tilting of the teeth toward a space caused by extraction, which produces a mal-occlusion, or imperfect bite when the mouth is closed. This condition often causes an irritation resulting in pyorrhea. The third cause is rough or overhanging edges of fillings, crowns or other dental restorations, or excess pressure from appliances which will produce the same effects as the other causes. Diet has always proven to at least be a factor in the cause of the disease

The symptoms of pyorrhea are not easily recognized in the first stages of the disease, but very soon the gumms become swollen and bleed easily on pressure, or when the tooth brush is used. Pus may often be noticed around the gum margins, and finally, due to the destruction of the bony process, the teeth become elongated and loose.

This disease is much easier prevented than cured. The first step in its prevention is to be sure that everything in the mouth which might cause irritation to the soft tissues or the bony process beneath is either removed or remedied. Whether it be a deposit of calculus about the necks of the teeth, crowns, fillings or bridges which are causing an irritation, or an imperfect or uneven bite. The teeth and entire oral cavity should be kept scrupuously clean at all times, by the correct and systematic use of the tooth brush and dental floss. Toothpicks should be avoided as they often irritate the gums, and become a factor in the cause of pyorrhea. The gums may be massaged toward the cutting edgds of the teeth, giving them the exercise which our diet of today is denying them. As to diet in cases of pyorrhea, it will be found that the addition of a generous amount of raw vegetables and fruits will be beneficial.

There is no specific medicine which will cure pyorrhea, nor is there a tooth paste or powder which will effect a cure. The disease may be cured in the early stages, that is, before there is too much destruction of the bony process in which the teeth are imbedded. This process when once destroyed will not regenerate or replace itself to any great extent so the cure must be effected before the disease has progress too far. Careful treatment and the full cooperation of the patient is necessary to assure a cure. A great deal depends upon the attention given the mouth between treatments by the patient. Even when the gums have apparently become normal it is necessary to keep the mouth in as clean and sanitary condition as possible, with frequent examinations to prevent a recurrence of the disease.

When pyorrhea has once progressed to a point where a cure is impossible the teeth should be extracted, for the infection in the gum tissue may be absorbed into the blood stream and may be the cause of the same systemic or remote diseases of the body as an abscessed tooth is often responsible for. Such as neuritis, arthritis, heart lesions, eye or ear infections, etc.

The proper way to cure pyorrhea is to prevent it.

MILTON SILLS AT AMERICAN

Betty Bronson Has Feminine Lead in "Paradise."

Colorful South Sea Island scenes; a replica of London's famous Beaux Arts Ball; one of the greatest screen battles in history between Milton Sills and Noah Beery; a coronation scene with Milton Sills and Betty Bronson are crowned king and queen of a tropical island, and a bitter struggle between a stolid, wealthy man and the ne'er-do-well son of an English nobleman.

Those are a few of the highlights of First National's latest Milton Sills starring photoplay, which opens at the American theatre Monday.

An unusual cast has been assembled for this picture. Betty Bronson has the featured feminine lead, with Noah Beery, Kate Price, Charlie Murray, Lloyd Whitlock, Claude King and Ashley Cooper in support. The adaptation of Cosmo Hamilton's great novel, "Paradise," was produced by Ray Rockett.

TEETH IN RELATION TO HEALTH

PYORRHEA

(Editor's note—The following is the fifth of a series of articles on various phases of dentistry prepared by a representative of the East Liverpool-Wellsville Dental society.)

By Dr. R. R. Bode.

Of all the diseases to which the human mouth is subject, except simple decay of the teeth, pyorrhea is the most prevalent.

Pyorrhea is a disease of the gums, and may occur in a mouth free from cavities or decay, and in which the teeth seem to be normal. Though more often it is found in mouths which do not receive the proper care and attention.

There are numerous causes of pyorrhea, the most common of which are: First—an accumulation or deposit of calculus (tarter) around the gum margin of the teeth which may cause a continual irritation to the gum tissue and may result in infection and destruction of the bony process which supports the teeth, finally causing them to loosen in their sockets. The second cause is irregular or crooked teeth, or the tilting of the teeth toward a space caused by extraction, which produces a mal-occlusion, or imperfect bite when the mouth is closed. This condition often causes an irritation resulting in pyorrhea. The third cause is rough or overhanging edges of fillings, crowns or other dental restorations, or excess pressure from appliances which will produce the same effects as the other causes. Diet has always proven to at least be a factor in the cause of the disease

The symptoms of pyorrhea are not easily recognized in the first stages of the disease, but very soon the gums become swollen and bleed easily on pressure, or when the tooth brush is used. Pus may often be noticed around the gum margins, and finally, due to the destruction of the bony process, the teeth become elongated and loose.

This disease is much easier prevented than cured. The first step in its prevention is to be sure that everything in the mouth which might cause irritation to the soft tissues or the bony process beneath is either removed or remedied. Whether it be a deposit of calculus about the necks of the teeth, crowns, fillings or bridges which are causing an irritation, or an imperfect or uneven bite. The teeth and entire oral cavity should be kept scrupulously clean at all times, by the correct and systematic use of the tooth brush and dental floss. Toothpicks should be avoided as they often irritate the gums, and become a factor in the cause of pyorrhea. The gums may be massaged toward the cutting edges of the teeth, giving them the exercise which our diet of today is denying them. As to diet in cases of pyorrhea, it will be found that the addition of a generous amount of raw vegetables and fruits will be beneficial.

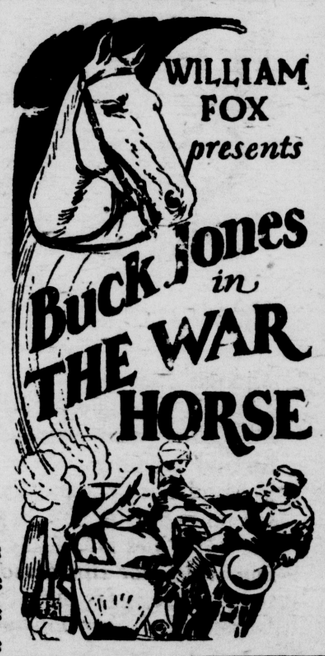

There is no specific medicine which will cure pyorrhea, nor is there a tooth paste or powder which will effect a cure. The disease may be cured in the early stages, that is, before there is too much destruction of the bony process in which the teeth are imbedded. This process when once destroyed will not regenerate or replace itself to any great extent so the cure must be effected before the disease has progress too far. Careful treatment and the full cooperation of the patient is necessary to assure a cure. A great deal depends upon the attention given the mouth between treatments by the patient. Even when the gums have apparently become normal it is necessary to keep the mouth in as clean and sanitary condition as possible, with frequent examinations to prevent a recurrence of the disease.

When pyorrhea has once progressed to a point where a cure is impossible the teeth should be extracted, for the infection in the gum tissue may be absorbed into the blood stream and may be the cause of the same systemic or remote diseases of the body as an abscessed tooth is often responsible for. Such as neuritis, arthritis, heart lesions, eye or ear infections, etc.

The proper way to cure pyorrhea is to prevent it.

Senatorial Knots

Vice President Dawes stands justified. The heroic silence he maintained until a few minutes before he rapped the gavel in the closing days of the session gave all the more force to the senate's dreadful example of unlimited debate.

The last week in the senate was a nightmare of filibustering, wrangling, confusion, ill temper and general ineptness. The senate tied itself into knots, making the transaction of business almost impossible, just at a time when it was especially desirable for that body to be calm, clearheaded and efficient.

Nearly all of that nonsense and inefficiency could have been avoided by cloture. Is there any private business organization in the world that would let a dog-in-the-manger minority block all constructive action?

Doctors Needed

While the legal profession and some of the others are crowded, the medical profession seems to be undermanned. President Vinson of Western Reserve University says the medical schools of the United States are producing only half enough physicians to fill the national need. Even in a state noted for the number of its colleges, including many medical schools, it is found necessary to import from other states as many physicians as its own schools produce.

The need of physicians resolves itself into a need of teachers for the production of physicians. The medical colleges are doing the best they can. They have for the most part, good material equipment, steadily improving. They often have good endowments. Yet they find it almost impossible to get and keep professors and instructors. Men are lured from one institution to another, but it is little more than a changing around; the number hardly increases.

So President Vinson sounds a call for men "able to do this type of work and possessed of sufficient missionary zeal to submerge themselves in laboratory and classroom and relinquish the emoluments of private practice."

It is only fair that such men, possessing the necessary ability and devotion, should be well paid for their "submergence." That is being taken care of better than it used to be.

At any rate, here is a field not only inviting young men seeking professional careers, but actually begging them to come in. It calls for unusual intelligence, vigor, endurance and devotion whether the student intends to qualify for the fundamental task of teaching, or merely looks forward to private practice. But in either case the honor and the moral satisfactions are great, and the pecuniary rewards are not exactly to be despised.

School Hot-Dogs

The hot-dog wagon in the street near the school yard has a legal right to be there, but it introduces serious problems into school management. In spite of the fact that the school has a good lunch room of its own, where excellent and well-balanced lunches are served to pupils and teachers at cost, there are always boys and girls who prefer to run out to the wagon and grab dubious hot-dog sandwiches and strawberry pop for their noonday meal.

One large high school in a good-sized city struggled with the problem for a year or so. An educational campaign in the school did a little good, but did not succeed in winning all patronage away from the unhygienic commercial lunch wagon.

Then the principal of the school decided that it was the fun of getting out doors and eating their lunches standing up that appealed to the children. So he opened a rival stand in the school yard, run by the lunch room management. It sells milk and chocolate bars, hamburger and hot-dog sandwiches, properly cooked and of wholesome materials. The thing is working so well that another outdoor lunch is to be established at the rear of the school building.

The school quick lunches have all the attractions of the commercial one without its bad features.

Business Arbitration

Last year there were 12,566 motion picture disputes, aggregating $2,712,000 worth of claims, settled by boards of arbitration, at small cost and to the general satisfaction of the disputants. It was done through machinery set up by the film industry.

Why should the same procedure not be adopted in other industries?

And why should there not be arbitration among citizens of all classes, for all kinds of civil disputes, instead of carrying them to court, with the inevitable delay and expense of our court procedure?

The courts are overworked, anyway, and the lawyers would still earn a living if ordinary lawsuits were settled in a business-like way by private tribunals or friendly volunteers.

In fact, that might be a good business for lawyers themselves. Why should not a lawyer, or a firm of lawyers, represent both parties instead of only one, bring them together around a table and settle the matter right there?

"Our standing army is a myth," says a critic. Still, it's able to stand a good deal from the critics.

Don't say there's nothing in numbers. On July 4 we celebrate our freedom, and on March 4 congress goes home.

A SEEKER AFTER INFORMATION.

Immediately following the historic murder of the gambler, Rosenthal, in New York, the papers were full of stories to the effect that members of the uniformed police force had cleared the street in front of the Hotel Metropole in order the assassins might pot their victim without interruption.

A night or two after the killing, a very tired man was clinging to an awning post opposite the Metropole, in Forty-ninth street, when a patrolman came by and ordered him to move on.

"Very well," said the weary one thickly. "Very well, osifer; but I'd like to ask you a civil ques'n first."

"Well, what is it?" demanded the policeman.

"Who you fellers fixin' to shoot now?"

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 5.—Newspaper and magazine editors used to be tricked by mediocre writers who, being given a change for a few signed articles and later dropped, would flood the mails with protesting letters from allegedly indignant readers.

The originator was a man, who, when dismissed, hired a circular letter agency to write letters in some 400 different guises, asking what had become of the writer's stuff. The letters were posted from all around New York and surrounding towns.

The editor was so upset by what he considered a lack of judgment in "canning" the articles he sent for the writer post haste and signed him for six years at triple his former salary. It was not until several years later when the writer had made good the hoax was discovered.

It is a general rule now in most editorial shops to look with slight suspicion upon epistolary praise for this scribbler and that. They may be genuine, but editors are taking no chances. If the writer's wares are well received the editor knows it in various ways.

Largely he depends upon field agents—that is to say circulation, subscription and advertising men. The alert editor also has a spry ear cocked for laudatory expressions among his friends and acquaintances. He is not easily fooled.

It is largely true, however, that the editor depends solely upon his own editorial discretion. He is conscious of having been picked for the job because of ability to sense the public literary taste. He rises or falls upon his own judgment.

There is also a spacious reasoning among struggling scribblers that only writers whose names are well known receive consideration. The fact is well known merely receive, and deservedly so as the reward of achievement, higher pay. In the past year more than 400 absolutely unknown writers were sifted out of the hopper. In obscurity they had displayed talent.

There are several irritating theatrical producers in New York, who like intelligentsia hacks writing for posterity, gloss over dismal efforts with the cry of caring nothing for dollars, but only art. There is one, tough enough looking to be shaved by a blow torch, who says frankly his only interest in production is box office receipts. He has had more long runs and furnished more amusement than all the others combined. Sensible people long ago discovered the stage has slight power to uplift. Its chief power is to entertain.

Club life in New York, with a cool bow to Mr. Volstead, is slowly passing. Nearly all the old established clubs seem deserted and scores of new ones have given up the ghost. Club hospitality is now being dispensed in bachelor apartments and private homes. The strictly luncheon clubs alone preserve the old congeniality.

There is a sayin along Broadway that one has "an Iowa look." It is a term of apple-knocking, clod hopping derision—the stamp of supreme yokelry. Yet two of the most sophisticated men about town are products of Iowa farms. A play puncturing the shams of Broadway was written by an Iowan. And Wall street wild cat stock yokel yankers have found Iowa the most unfertile field of all for disposing of their wares.

Newly opened hotels often offer free accommodations to certain celebrities whose admirers they desire to attract as patrons. One man is said to have lived for the past 20 years in this fashion and to have more than paid for the cost of his upkeep by inspiring increased patronage.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

National Hearing Week.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—National Hearing Week will be observed throughout the United States during the first week in May under the auspices of the American Federation of Organizations for the Hard of Hearing. Its object is the furtherance of the interests of the large group of people who are handicapped by defective hearing.

In each city and town that participates there will be public meetings with prominent speakers, informal talks before parent-teacher associations and women's clubs, demonstrations of hearing devices, hearing tests, demonstrations of lip reading, and where radio is available, talks will be broadcast about the prevention of deafness, the conservation of hearing, and the rehabilitation of the deafened.

Experts who ought to know what they are talking about say that society does not show the consideration it should to those unfortunates who lost their hearing, partially or totally. Splendid care is taken of the deaf—those who are born deaf and those who lose their hearing before they learn to talk—but the deafened are neglected. In this connection it should be explained that there is a difference between the deaf and the deafened, just as there is btween the blind and the blinded. The deaf and the blind are those who have never known the use of the faculties indicated, while the deafened and the blinded are those who have lost something they have once had. Physicians and teachers agree that the latter are the more unhappy and the more unfortunate.

While deafness is not regarded as serious as blindness in its effect upon the social and economic life of the individual, it does seem in many instances to have a far more depressing psychological effect. The comment is frequently heard that the blind seem so much more cheerful than the deafened. The explanation that has been offered and generally accepted is that every time you speak to a blind man you help him to forget his misfortune, while every time you speak to a deafened man you remind him of his. Thus it is that the deafened often shun companionship and grow morbid and "touchy."

Lack of Social Work.

In view of the seriousness of this handicap it is surprising to know how little social work has been done for the deafened up until a very recent date. Until November, 1910, there was not a single organization in the United States formed to do anything to alleviate deafness acquired in adult life. Then the New York league for the hard of Hearing was organized by Edward B. Nitchie, one of the pioneer teachers of lip reading in this country, and Dr. Harold Hays, a young New York otologist, and for six years it was the only organization of its kind in the country. Now there are 48 local organizations and the American federation, which was founded in 1919 by Dr. Wendell C Phillip. The national body is in effect a clearing house of information received from the various locals and it seeks to enlarge to a national scale what the locals are doing in their respective communities.

Statistics as to the number of deaf and deafened people there are in the United States are largely a matter of estimate. This is the case because it is only very recently that tests of school children have been made and because there never has been established any system of testing adults and making a record of the results.

It is believed by the best informed on the subject, however, that there are at least 2,000,000 and possibly as many as 3,000,000 persons in this country who suffer from defective hearing, and that 14.5 of all school children have trouble with one or both ears. Of the children so afflicted, it is declared, 80 per cent can be cured by proper treatment once it is known what is the matter with them.

Obviously the first thing to be done is to test all school children and in this connection the organizations affiliated with the American Federation find one of their major activities. Tests are still being made with the voice, tuning fork, and watch, but great importance is attached to a new instrument, called the audiometer which has been developed to standardize and expedite the testing. A voice is used which comes to the pupils through an ear set from a phonograph record. Experimental tests have been made in a number of cities, with satisfactory results, one of the most important being the demonstration that tests can be adequately conducted by teachers who have had no previous knowledge of such matters.

Due to Preventable Disease.

Most deafness, it is stated, can be traced to neglect or preventable disease in childhood, hence school surveys of hearing and clinics for prevention and treatment of incipient deafness are a vital need. For thousands of children, however, lip reading is necessary. With this aid they can continue in school with hearing children, in an environment of normal speech. They should not have their lessons and play with children of abnormal enunciation and voice inflection, nor if it can be otherwise arranged should they be sent after school hours for instruction in speech reading when both teachers and children are wearied after a day deemed long enough for a normal child, and especially so for one struggling with a handicap.

Therefore itw is urged that the specially trained speech reading teacher should go from school to school, giving instruction from one to three times a week in periods ranging from half an hour to an hour. Children will make amazing progress under this method of instruction, it is reported.

School surveys also show that many children are not making the progress they should in their studies simply because they are hard of hearing and no one has been aware of that fact—neither parents are frequently charged with being inactive, and are classed as has also been found that they comprise a large proportion of the repeat-

President Vinson of Western Reserve University says the medical schools of the United States are producing only half enough physicians to fill the national need. Even in a state noted for the number of its colleges, including many medical schools, it is found necessary to import from other states as many physicians as its own schools produce.

The need of physicians resolves itself into a need of teachers for the production of physicians. The medical colleges are doing the best they can. They have for the most part, good material equipment, steadily improving. They often have good endowments. Yet they find it almost impossible to get and keep professors and instructors. Men are lured from one institution to another, but it is little more than a changing around; the number hardly increases.

So President Vinson sounds a call for men "able to do this type of work and possessed of sufficient missionary zeal to submerge themselves in laboratory and classroom and relinquish the emoluments of private practice."

It is only fair that such men, possessing the necessary ability and devotion, should be well paid for their "submergence." That is being taken care of better than it used to be.

At any rate, here is a field not only inviting young men seeking professional careers, but actually begging them to come in. It calls for unusual intelligence, vigor, endurance and devotion whether the student intends to qualify for the fundamental task of teaching, or merely looks forward to private practice. But in either case the honor and the moral satisfactions are great, and the pecuniary rewards are not exactly to be despised.

School Hot-Dogs

The hot-dog wagon in the street near the school yard has a legal right to be there, but it introduces serious problems into school management. In spite of the fact that the school has a good lunch room of its own, where excellent and well-balanced lunches are served to pupils and teachers at cost, there are always boys and girls who prefer to run out to the wagon and grab dubious hot-dog sandwiches and strawberry pop for their noonday meal.

One large high school in a good-sized city struggled with the problem for a year or so. An educational campaign in the school did a little good, but did not succeed in winning all patronage away from the unhygienic commercial lunch wagon.

Then the principal of the school decided that it was the fun of getting out doors and eating their lunches standing up that appealed to the children. So he opened a rival stand in the school yard, run by the lunch room management. It sells milk and chocolate bars, hamburger and hot-dog sandwiches, properly cooked and of wholesome materials. The thing is working so well that another outdoor lunch is to be established at the rear of the school building.

The school quick lunches have all the attractions of the commercial one without its bad features.

Business Arbitration

Last year there were 12,566 motion picture disputes, aggregating $2,712,000 worth of claims, settled by boards of arbitration, at small cost and to the general satisfaction of the disputants. It was done through machinery set up by the film industry.

Why should the same procedure not be adopted in other industries?

And why should there not be arbitration among citizens of all classes, for all kinds of civil disputes, instead of carrying them to court, with the inevitable delay and expense of our court procedure?

The courts are overworked, anyway, and the lawyers would still earn a living if ordinary lawsuits were settled in a business-like way by private tribunals or friendly volunteers.

In fact, that might be a good business for lawyers themselves. Why should not a lawyer, or a firm of lawyers, represent both parties instead of only one, bring them together around a table and settle the matter right there?

"Our standing army is a myth," says a critic. Still, it's able to stand a good deal from the critics.

Don't say there's nothing in numbers. On July 4 we celebrate our freedom, and on March 4 congress goes home.

A SEEKER AFTER INFORMATION.

Immediately following the historic murder of the gambler, Rosenthal, in New York, the papers were full of stories to the effect that members of the uniformed police force had cleared the street in front of the Hotel Metropole in order the assassins might pot their victim without interruption.

A night or two after the killing, a very tired man was clinging to an awning post opposite the Metropole, in Forty-ninth street, when a patrolman came by and ordered him to move on.

"Very well," said the weary one thickly. "Very well, osifer; but I'd like to ask you a civil ques'n first."

"Well, what is it?" demanded the policeman.

"Who you fellers fixin' to shoot now?"

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 5.—Newspaper and magazine editors used to be tricked by mediocre writers who, being given a change for a few signed articles and later dropped, would flood the mails with protesting letters from allegedly indignant readers.

The originator was a man, who, when dismissed, hired a circular letter agency to write letters in some 400 different guises, asking what had become of the writer's stuff. The letters were posted from all around New York and surrounding towns.

The editor was so upset by what he considered a lack of judgment in "canning" the articles he sent for the writer post haste and signed him for six years at triple his former salary. It was not until several years later when the writer had made good the hoax was discovered.

It is a general rule now in most editorial shops to look with slight suspicion upon epistolary praise for this scribbler and that. They may be genuine, but editors are taking no chances. If the writer's wares are well received the editor knows it in various ways.

Largely he depends upon field agents—that is to say circulation, subscription and advertising men. The alert editor also has a spry ear cocked for laudatory expressions among his friends and acquaintances. He is not easily fooled.

It is largely true, however, that the editor depends solely upon his own editorial discretion. He is conscious of having been picked for the job because of ability to sense the public literary taste. He rises or falls upon his own judgment.

There is also a spacious reasoning among struggling scribblers that only writers whose names are well known receive consideration. The fact is well known merely receive, and deservedly so as the reward of achievement, higher pay. In the past year more than 400 absolutely unknown writers were sifted out of the hopper. In obscurity they had displayed talent.

There are several irritating theatrical producers in New York, who like intelligentsia hacks writing for posterity, gloss over dismal efforts with the cry of caring nothing for dollars, but only art. There is one, tough enough looking to be shaved by a blow torch, who says frankly his only interest in production is box office receipts. He has had more long runs and furnished more amusement than all the others combined. Sensible people long ago discovered the stage has slight power to uplift. Its chief power is to entertain.

Club life in New York, with a cool bow to Mr. Volstead, is slowly passing. Nearly all the old established clubs seem deserted and scores of new ones have given up the ghost. Club hospitality is now being dispensed in bachelor apartments and private homes. The strictly luncheon clubs alone preserve the old congeniality.

There is a sayin' along Broadway that one has "an Iowa look." It is a term of apple-knocking, clod hopping derision—the stamp of supreme yokelry. Yet two of the most sophisticated men about town are products of Iowa farms. A play puncturing the shams of Broadway was written by an Iowan. And Wall street wild cat stock yokel yankers have found Iowa the most unfertile field of all for disposing of their wares.

Newly opened hotels often offer free accommodations to certain celebrities whose admirers they desire to attract as patrons. One man is said to have lived for the past 20 years in this fashion and to have more than paid for the cost of his upkeep by inspiring increased patronage.

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

National Hearing Week.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—National Hearing Week will be observed throughout the United States during the first week in May under the auspices of the American Federation of Organizations for the Hard of Hearing. Its object is the furtherance of the interests of the large group of people who are handicapped by defective hearing.

In each city and town that participates there will be public meetings with prominent speakers, informal talks before parent-teacher associations and women's clubs, demonstrations of hearing devices, hearing tests, demonstrations of lip reading, and where radio is available, talks will be broadcast about the prevention of deafness, the conservation of hearing, and the rehabilitation of the deafened.

Experts who ought to know what they are talking about say that society does not show the consideration it should to those unfortunates who lost their hearing, partially or totally. Splendid care is taken of the deaf—those who are born deaf and those who lose their hearing before they learn to talk—but the deafened are neglected. In this connection it should be explained that there is a difference between the deaf and the deafened, just as there is btween the blind and the blinded. The deaf and the blind are those who have neve known the use of the faculties indicated, while the deafened and the blinded are those who have lost something they have once had. Physicians and teachers agree that the latter are the more unhappy and the more unfortunate.

While deafness is not regarded as serious as blindness in its effect upon the social and economic life of the individual, it does seem in many instances to have a far more depressing psychological effect. The comment is frequently heard that the blind seem so much more cheerful than the deafened. The explanation that has been offered and generally accepted is that every time you speak to a blind man you help him to forget his misfortune, while every time you speak to a deafened man you remind him of his. Thus it is that the deafened often shun companionship and grow morbid and "touchy."

Lack of Social Work.

In view of the seriousness of this handicap it is surprising to know how little social work has been done for the deafened up until a very recent date. Until November, 1910, there was not a single organization in the United States formed to do anything to alleviate deafness acquired in adult life. Then the New York ague for the lard of Hearing was organized by Edward B. Nitchie, one of the pioneer teachers of lip reading in this country, and Dr. Harold Hays, a young New York otologist, and for six years it was the only organization of its kind in the country. Now there are 48 local organizations and the American Federation, which was founded in 1919 by Dr. Wendell C Phillip. The national body is in effect a clearing house of information received from the various locals and it seeks to enlarge to a national scale what the locals are doing in their respective communities.

Statistics as to the number of deaf and deafened people there are in the United States are largely a matter of estimate. This is the case because it is only very recently that tests of school children have been made and because there never has been established any system of testing adults and making a record of the results.

It is believed by the best informed on the subject, however, that there are at least 2,000,000 and possibly as many as 3,000,000 persons in this country who suffer from defective hearing, and that 14.5 of all school children have trouble with one or both ears. Of the children so afflicted, it is declared, 80 per cent can be cured by proper treatment once it is known what is the matter with them.

Obviously the first thing to be done is to test all school children and in this connection the organizations affiliated with the American Federation find one of their major activities. Tests are still being made with the voice, tuning fork, and watch, but great importance is attached to a new instrument, called the audiometer which has been developed to standardize and expedite the testing. A voice is used which comes to the pupils through an ear set from a phonograph record. Experimental tests have been made in a number of cities, with satisfactory results, one of the most important being the demonstration that tests can be adequately conducted by teachers who have had no previous knowledge of such matters.

Due to Preventable Disease.

Most deafness, it is stated, can be traced to neglect or preventable disease in childhood, hence school surveys of hearing and clinics for prevention and treatment of incipient deafness are a vital need. For thousands of children, however, lip reading is necessary. With this aid they can continue in school with hearing children, in an environment of normal speech. They should not have their lessons and play with children of abnormal enunciation and voice inflection, nor if it can be otherwise arranged should they be sent after school hours for instruction in speech reading when both teachers and children are wearied after a day deemed long enough for a normal child, and especially so for one struggling with a handicap.

Therefore itw is urged that the specially trained speech reading teacher should go from school to school, giving instruction from one to three times a week in periods ranging from half an hour to an hour. Children will make amazing progress under this method of instruction, it is reported.

School surveys also show that many children are not making the progress they should in their studies simply because they are hard of hearing and no one has been aware of that fact—neither parents are frequently charged with being inactive, and are classed as has also been found that they comprise a large proportion of the repeat-

IN MEMORIAM

Of John R. Cunningham, who died two years ago, February 21, 1925.

Dear is the grave where our dead is laid,
Sweet is the memory which never shall fade,
Flowers may wither, leaves fade and die,
Others may forget you, but never shall I.

Oft from my heart comes a bitter cry, why, O why, did Father die?
Then comes the answer so solemn and deep,
Take courage, Father is only asleep.

PLAN TO MAKE ISSUE IN 1928 OF CORRUPTION

Reed Committee, Dems and Insurgents Behind Move.

SEIZE BALLOTS

Pennsylvania, Colorado and Southern States in Spotlight.

BY WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The national issue of election corruption will be carried to the American people this summer and forced into the 1928 presidential campaign, it was learned today, by the activities of the Reed campaign fund committee and a Democratic-Insurgent alliance.

The sixty-ninth congress, which died at the end of a filibuster's noose, bequeathed this issue to the two major parties. The fact that the senate refused to settle the problem itself only enhanced the importance of the issue.

The Reed committee definitely committed itself to a campaign of activity by ordering the impounding of ballots in four additional counties of Pennsylvania, Delaware, Schuykill, Luzerne and Lackawanna. Senator Reed (D.) of Missouri, chairman, announced the step was taken at the request of William C. Wilson, Democrat, who has contested the election of Senator William S. Vare (R.) of Pennsylvania. The decision to seize the ballots, he added, was unanimous, being approved by three Republican members of the committee.

Fund Shortage May Halt Quiz.

The committee may initiate an inquiry into the last Colorado senatorial primary. Such an inquiry has been asked, and Reed declared the committee would undertake it. The committee, however, has not decided finally upon this action and will meet again on March 25 to lay down a program for the future.

There were rumors too that the committee would institute investigations in Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi, three Democratic states. Such inquiries would revolve around the negro suffrage question, but, if undertaken, the committee naturally will drag in the Republican patronage scandals. The Democrats would welcome such an exchange, believing as they do that publicity on the "white primaries" in the south will have a less deadly effect on public opinion than publicity on the alleged action of Republican leaders in the same states selling federal posts to the highest bidders.

Members of the committee privately declared the were not anxious to undertake a summer of work while their senatorial colleagues enjoy vacations. This human weakness may go further toward blocking further investigations than any feeling that the committee's power is limited. Again, the question of funds may halt activities as the committee has only a limited supply of expense money at its disposal.

Claim Committee Has Power.

Chairman Reed announced the committee had power, under the recent decision of the supreme court in the Mal Daugherty case, to carry on its work throughout the summer. This opinion likewise was expressed by Senator Borah (R.) of Idaho, a constitutional authority. If it did launch new inquiries, it was pointed out, there would be no power in America capable of hearing the committee Federal courts, it was said, are powerless to punish any activity by the senate or any or the senate's committees.

The corruption issue meanwhile will be revived next December anyway when the seventieth congress meets. Then the Reed committe will take a leading role in the fight to unseat Senator Frank L. Smith (R.) of Illinois, and William S. Vare (R.) of Pennsylvania. It also will renew its effort to punish Samuel Insull and two others for contempt. This will carry the issue right to the eve of the presidential campaign of 1928.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us, and to those who donated the use of their cars, during the sickness and death of our beloved husband and father, John George Cowey.

Especially do we thank Rev. MacLeod, the singers and Dr. Shaffer.

PLAN TO MAKE ISSUE IN 1928 OF CORRUPTION

Reed Committee, Dems and Insurgents Behind Move.

SEIZE BALLOTS

Pennsylvania, Colorado and Southern States in Spotlight.

BY WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The national issue of election corruption will be carried to the American people this summer and forced into the 1928 presidential campaign, it was learned today, by the activities of the Reed campaign fund committee and a Democratic-Insurgent alliance.

The sixty-ninth congress, which died at the end of a filibuster's noose, bequeathed this issue to the two major parties. The fact that the senate refused to settle the problem itself only enhanced the importance of the issue.

The Reed committee definitely committed itself to a campaign of activity by ordering the impounding of ballots in four additional counties of Pennsylvania, Delaware, Schuykill, Luzerne and Lackawanna. Senator Reed (D.) of Missouri, chairman, announced the step was taken at the request of William T. Wilson, Democrat, who has contested the election of Senator William S. Vare (R.) of Pennsylvania. The decision to seize the ballots, he added, was unanimous, being approved by three Republican members of the committee.

Fund Shortage May Halt Quiz.

The committee may initiate an inquiry into the last Colorado senatorial primary. Such an inquiry has been asked, and Reed declared the committee would undertake it. The committee, however, has not decided finally upon this action and will meet again on March 25 to lay down a program for the future.

There were rumors too that the committee would institute investigations in Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi, three Democratic states. Such inquiries would revolve around the negro suffrage question, but, if undertaken, the committee naturally will drag in the Republican patronage scandals. The Democrats would welcome such an exchange, believing as they do that publicity on the "white primaries" in the south will have a less deadly effect on public opinion than publicity on the alleged action of Republican leaders in the same states selling federal posts to the highest bidders.

Members of the committee privately declared the were not anxious to undertake a summer of work while their senatorial colleagues enjoy vacations. This is human weakness may go further toward blocking further investigations than any feeling that the committee's power is limited. Again, the question of funds may halt activities as the committee has only a limited supply of expense money at its disposal.

Claim Committee Has Power.

Chairman Reed announced the committee had power, under the recent decision of the supreme court in the Mal Daugherty case, to carry on its work throughout the summer. This opinion likewise was expressed by Senator Borah (R.) of Idaho, a constitutional authority. If it did launch new inquiries, it was pointed out, there would be no power in America capable of halting the committee Federal courts, it was said, are powerless to prohibit any activity by the senate or any or the senate's committees.

The corruption issue meanwhile will be revived next December anyway when the seventieth congress meets. Then, the Reed committe will take a leading role in the fight to unseat Senator Frank L. Smith (R.) of Illinois, and William S. Vare (R.) of Pennsylvania. It also will renew its effort to punish Samuel Insull and two others for contempt. This will carry the issue right to the eve of the presidential campaign of 1928.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us, and to those who donated the use of their cars, during the sickness and death of our beloved husband and father, John George Cowey.

Especially do we thank Rev. MacLeod, the singers and Dr. Shaffer.

CHESTER HIGH DOWNS FACULTY

Hard Fought Battle is Staged on Rock Springs Park Floor.

Chester high school basketball five defeated the Faculty last night in a closely contested game on the Rock Springs park floor, score 31 to 29. The winning goal was scored in the last few minutes of play on a long shot from the center of the floor by Miller. Faculty put up a strong game and made the regulars work hard for victory.

The game started off at a fast pace with the Faculty leading at the end of the first quarter by a score of 12 to 6. They registered seven points before the students broke into the scoring column. High showed to better advantage in the second quarter and managed to even up the score, the half closing with the score deadlocked with each squad having 16 points.

The contest was nip and tuck during the entire second half with the lead changing several times. Hoskinson and Kimble put High in the lead with field goals. Three straight baskets by Wilde and Walker placed the Faculty in the lead. Kimble tied the score with a field goal. Skinner's foul toss placed the Faculty out in front by a one point margin. Field toss by Walker of the Faculty closed the third period with the score again tied. The final quarter found both teams fighting hard with honors going to High on Miller's field goal.

Kimble, Miller and Hoskinson were the stars for High, while Wilde, Rabenstein and Walker performed brilliantly for the Faculty.

Chester Sophomores won the preliminary from the Newell Juniors by a score of 17 to 12.

$25,000 DAMAGE SUIT INSTITUTED

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 5.—Suit for $25,000 was filed in federal court here today by George Johnson against the county court of Boone county for injuries alleged to have been sustained in the Whitesville bridge disaster last August. Johnson claimed he was crossing the bridge, and not watching the exhibition in Roal river, as hundreds were doing, when the bridge collapsed, killing several persons and injuring scores. Johnson suffered the loss of one eye, use of his right hand and internal injuries, a fractured skull and a broken leg. Previous suits have gone against injured persons, the court holding the bridge was not intended for use as a grandstand.

SPECIAL SERMON SUBJECTS LISTED

Rev. R. C. Ehrheart, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, will begin a special series of Sunday night sermons tomorrow on the subject, "Present Day Religious Ideas—an Attempt to Interpret Modern Religious Thinking."

List of subjects follow:

March 6 — "Present-Day Idea of God."

March 13 — "Present-Day Idea of Sin."

March 20—"Present-Day Idea of Salvation."

Question box and open forum will be held in connection with the meetings.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO MEET MONDAY

Members of the Chester Woman's club will meet Monday afternoon with Mrs. A. H. Mackall in her home, Phoenix avenue. The meeting was originally scheduled for the home of Mrs. Mary Collins.

Mrs. Pearl McCoy will have as her subject, "Women of the Bible," while "Bible Stories of Egypt" will be the topic of Miss Helen Mahan. Mrs. S. A. Stewart will discuss "The American Sunday." Personator — "Bible Character," is assigned Mrs. R. L. Parker.

REV. ZAHNIZER TO HOLD MEETS

Rev. A. D. Zahnizer, of Pittsburgh, will open a series of evangelistic meetings tomorrow in the Free Methodist church. Meetings will continue until March 20.

Services this week in the church have been in charge of the pastor, Rev. A. L. Duncan. Special music will be featured.

STATE BUREAUS IN NEW QUARTERS

Most of the state departments and bureaus that were victims of Wednesday's fire have found new quarters and resumed business today. Issuing of automobile licenses began today in the new office of the road commission. Records of certificates of title, it was learned yesterday, were destroyed in the blaze which razed the temporary capitol building.

That lip reading is effective, by the way, was proved by a recent incident at the Federation headquarters here. A reporter had been talking to one of the officers in charge for a half an hour or so about lip reading, and finally asked, "But does it really work in a way that is at all satisfactory, or merely an experiment as yet and one that makes conversation with a deafened person slow and painful."

The officer smiled and answered, "I haven't heard a word you have uttered, and yet we have got along fairly well, haven't we?"

The reporter was dumbfounded to learn that he had been carrying on a lively conversation with a deafened person, and had never had even the slightest suspicion of the fact.

DAUSS, ILL, WILL REPORT IN APRIL

INDIANAPOLIS, March 5.—George Dauss, Detroit pitcher, will be able to report for duty in about a month.

This was the statement of his brother, R. C. Dauss, today when questioned about his brother's condition.

"George has been sick all winter, and is now under a doctor's care. He is very weak and is trying to build up his strength," the brother said, denying that George had suffered a nervous collapse.

George was out of town today, but is expected to return in a day or two.

CREW OF 35 RESCUED AS FREIGHTER BURNS AT SEA

MEN PICKED UP AFTER TAKING TO LIFEBOATS

Forced to Abandon Ship Which Became Floating Inferno.

NO LIVES LOST

Spanish Vessel Steams to New York With Rescued Sailors.

NEW YORK, March 5. — Another epic of the seas awaited the telling today as the Spanish freight steamer Cabo Torres neared this port bearing the 35 members of the crew of an other Spanish freighter, the Cabo Hatteras, which burned at sea last night 130 miles off New York.

Forced to abandon their ship which had been converted into a floating inferno, the Cabo Hatteras men were rescued from their lifeboats after being tossed perilously about for an hour and a half in the darkness on the huge waves rolled up by a 60-miles-an-hour gale. No lives were lost in the disaster, latest wireless reports from the scene indicated.

Only the barest details of the rescue were known today.

The first frantic wireless call for aid which told of a fire that left the Cabo Hatteras' crew at the mercy of the sea and flames, was intercepted late yesterday. Soon five steamers, varying in distance from 20 miles to ten hours' steaming from the scene, reported that they were racing toward the stricken vessel.

For an hour and a half intermittent wireless messages from the Cabo Hatteras told of the progress of the flames and the desperate plight of the crew.

The Cabo Torres, a ship which had not heretofore been heard from, announced that she had located and rescued the Cabo Hatteras crew from their lifeboats.

The extent of the damage to the freighter was not known, but was believed to have been great. The Cabo Torres announced she had the stricken vessel in tow.

John Hue, Chef, Fined $50 Upon Girl's Complaint

John Hue, 45, claiming to a Buffalo, N. Y., lake steamer chef, is in jail today in default of a fine of $50 and costs assessed by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley, upon a charge of molesting females.

Hue was arrested in Jackson street by Patrolman Norman McFarland at 7 o'clock last night after he is alleged to have accosted an 11-year-old girl. The child notified her father who caused the man's arrest.

Friends of Hue said that the fine would be paid this afternoon.

ZANESVILLE'S TOURNEY BET

Dover Team Only Obstacle to State Title.

MUSKINGUM COLLEGE, NEW CONCORD, March 5. — Zanesville High school, Ohio state's representative last year at the national scholastic basketball tournament, today looked like a good bet to repeat, with only one hurdle—Dover—remaining in its path to eastern Ohio sectional honors.

Zanesville and Dover are slated to clash this afternoon at 3:45 o'clock in the championship game.

Zanesville eliminated New Philadelphia in the opening round game yesterday afternoon and put the skids under Marietta this morning, 45 to 27.

Dover defeated Cambridge, Martins Ferry and Bellaire to win a place in the concluding battle.

Today's tourney scores:
Dover 35, Martins Ferry 14.
Bellaire 32, Steubenville 18.
Zanesville 45, Marietta 27.
Dover 26, Bellaire 20.

Leroy Foltz Gets Reformatory Term On Assault Charge

Leroy Foltz, East Liverpool telegraph operator, was sentenced to from one to 20 years in the Mansfield reformatory by Judge W. F. Duncan in common pleas court, Lisbon, yesterday afternoon, after he was found guilty upon an indictment charging him with criminally assaulting a 14-year old girl.

This was Foltz's second trial. The jurors in the first trial were discharged Wednesday night when they failed to reach an agreement.

Foltz's wife was in the court room when Judge Duncan pronounced sentence.

1,350 MARINES ARE LANDED IN SHANGHAI

American Colony Warmly Greets "Devil Dogs."

BAND ON JOB

Important Struggle is Developing Near Soochow.

LONDON, March 5.—General Sun Chuan Fang, who has handed over the defense of Shanghai to General Chang Tsung Chang, has sailed for Nagasaki, Japan, taking a half a million dollars from the state treasury with him, according to a Central News dispatch from Shanghai.

SHANGHAI, March 5.—The American colony in Shanghai today declared a half holiday, turning out in force to witness the United States marines from the U. S. S. Chaumont and U. S. S. Pecos parade through the international settlement, the first American troops to be landed.

The famous "devil dogs," led by Colonel Charles Hill, were warmly greeted along their line of march. Preceded by marine band, the "first to fight" men 1,350 strong, constituted an impressive, and to the Americans a reassuring sight.

An important struggle, constituting the Nationalists' final real test of strength, is developing in the vicinity of Soochow where the Nationalists are making a thrust from Chekiang province in an attempt to cut off Shanghai from the main An Kuo-Chun army. The Nationalists obviously intend to seize the Shanghai-Nanking railway thus consolidating their procession before proceeding further toward Shanghai.

General An Kuo-Chun is joyfully preparing for a major engagement. He is rushing reinforcements to Soochow, with the result that a most important clash at Wukiang, near Soochow, is in progress.

Free Methodists' Quarterly Meeting Will Close Sunday

Quarterly meeting of the Free Methodist churches of the Rochester district, which opened in the Avondale Street church, Thursday evening, will close Sunday night.

Pastors and laymen from New Brighton, Rochester, Follansbee, Wellsburg, and Martins Ferry are attending the session.

Rev. A. D. Zahniser, Pittsburgh, general conference evangelist, will preach at the Saturday evening service and will also conduct a missionary rally on Sunday afternoon. Services will be held at the usual hours Sunday morning and evening

AMERICAN MARINES WIN THEIR FIRST "SEA BATTLE" IN SHANGHAI

SHANGHAI, March 5.—The U. S. marines have won their first "sea battle" in Shanghai.

The marines were dispatched to recover a Standard Oil launch which had been commandeered by the disorganized soldiers of Sun Chuan Fang's troops.

With their rifles unslung the "leathernecks" sailed along beside the commandeered launch and demanded its surrender. The Chinese troops aboard, although armed, did not offer to fight but proved themselves good business men and attempted to barter for the surrender of the launch, demanding a price.

The marines were equipped with rifles and bayonets but pay-day having been several hours past they had no money, so they boarded the commandeered launch and hurled the Chinese into the very wet and unpleasant but not dangerously deep river, and took the launch back to its owners.

The marines "lost" one man overboard, but he was rescued and his injuries were only to his feelings and to the depletion of his vocabulary.

Prisoner Was Truck Driver.

Thoma, who was a truck driver, is single. He quit school upon reaching the sixth grammar grade. He is known to prison officials as prisoner No. 56,405.

Since his arrival at the big state prison, Thoma has been reading considerable fiction. Prison officials furnish him with newspapers, magazines and books.

Aside from his readings, his chats with other prisoners, walks in the prison corridor, music from a phonograph, operated by a prison guard, and visits from relatives and the prison chaplain aid materially in keeping up the prisoner's spirit.

Along with the other prisoners, Thoma arises about 6 a. m. and is served with breakfast at 7 o'clock. Bed time and time for "lights out" arrives at 9 p. m.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 5.—Industrial stocks which led the latest rally in prices felt the weight of heavy profit taking and short selling in the abbreviated session of the market today. The scale of prices was slightly higher at the opening, but selling orders flooded the market, and the whole list turned reactionary.

The week end business reports were generally favorable, calling attention to the larger operations of the steel mills, and predicting a prompt revival of spring business at the usual time. The second reduction in crude oil prices was announced by Mid-Continent petroleum buyers; but this was in line with expectations and the effect on the oil stocks was negligible.

Commodity prices have made a slight recession during the week though foodstuffs were unchanged as a whole and copper metal regained more of the ground lost during February. Cotton and grain prices were steady in an inactive and featureless market.

URUGUAYAN FLYERS FOUND

Major Larre-Borges and Colleagues Land at Cape Juby.

PARIS, March 5.—Major Larre-Borges, Uruguayan aviator, who has been lost for three days since he departed from Casa Blanca on the second leg of a trans-Atlantic flight, has been found 60 miles northeast of Cap Juby on the west coast of Africa, according to a meagre report received here today.

No details of the finding of the men were received.

Major Larre-Borges and his colleagues hopped off from Casa Blanca for the Canary Islands but their being located off Cap Juby would indicate they may have changed their plans and headed for West African coast.

The message received here did not state whether Larre-Borges and his colleagues had suffered any injuries or whether they had been in an accident.

A later brief report stated that Major Larre-Borges and his three comrades were all safe.

Special Services In First Methodist Episcopal Church

First week of the special evangelistic campaign in progress at the First Methodist Episcopal church closed last night. Services throughout the week have been largely attended

A crowd, which practically filled the auditorium, was present when Frederick Balmond, evangelistic song leader, directed a children's choir last night. The children sang for about 20 minutes and then took their place in the audience.

Dr. Fowler's sermon was based on the text, "Ye Must Be Born Again."

Special meetings will continue next week with the usual morning and evening services on Sunday. Illustrated songs will be an added feature of the Monday evening service. Mr. Balmond will sing "The Ninety and Nine," and other old hymns, using stereopticon slides.

PASTORS MEET HERE ON MONDAY

The Ministerial association will meet in the Y. M. C. A. at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Rev. A. H. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church, and Rev. E. A. Walker, pastor of the Emmanuel Presbyterian church, will speak on "Miracles and the Book of Jonah."

DEATH ROLL

Logan Funeral Services.

Funeral services for S. K. Logan, 75 years old, will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Miller funeral home, West Sixth street, in charge of Rev. O. L. Benedum, pastor of the Nazarene church. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery. The body can be viewed at the Miller home.

50 DRY AGENTS AND RUM GANG IN GUN BATTLE

Four Bootleggers are Captured, One Wounded in Chicago.

LIQUOR SAVED

Nip Plan to Siphon $500,000 Stock to House.

CHICAGO, March 5.—More than 50 detectives and federal prohibition agents today staged a gun battle with five members of a notorious bootlegging gang, captured four of them and probably wounded a fifth, who escaped. More than $500,000 in pre-war bonded liquor was saved.

The fight occurred at a bonded liquor warehouse after authorities learned attempts would be made to steal the stock.

The rum runners, all members of the William "Klondike" O'Donnell gang, had rigged up siphoning equipment and were pumping the liquor through more than two miles of garden hose to a nearby [illegible] they had rented when the fight began.

O'Donnell and James "Red" Sammons, the leader and lieutenant of the gang, were superintending the operation when, at a given signal, the powerful beams of searchlight were focused upon them.

Immediately the firing began. It was only after their ammunition was exhausted that O'Donnell and Sammons surrendered. John Barry and John Davis were the other members captured.

The warehouse contained the only real pre-war whisky in Chicago agents said. More than $200,000 of the whisky had been siphoned into barrels when the shooting began.

CREW OF 35 RESCUED AS FREIGHTER BURNS AT SEA

MEN PICKED UP AFTER TAKING TO LIFEBOATS

Forced to Abandon Ship Which Became Floating Inferno.

NO LIVES LOST

Spanish Vessel Steams to New York With Rescued Sailors.

NEW YORK, March 5. — Another epic of the seas awaited the telling today as the Spanish freight steamer Cabo Torres neared this port bearing the 35 members of the crew of another Spanish freighter, the Cabo Hatteras, which burned at sea last night 130 miles off New York.

Forced to abandon their ship which had been converted into a floating inferno, the Cabo Hatteras men were rescued from their lifeboats after being tossed perilously about for an hour and a half in the darkness on the huge waves rolled up by a 60-miles-an-hour gale. No lives were lost in the disaster, latest wireless reports from the scene indicated.

Only the barest details of the rescue were known today.

The first frantic wireless call for aid which told of a fire that left the Cabo Hatteras' crew at the mercy of the sea and flames, was intercepted late yesterday. Soon five steamers, varying in distance from 20 miles to ten hours' steaming from the scene, reported that they were racing toward the stricken vessel.

For an hour and a half intermittent wireless messages from the Cabo Hatteras told of the progress of the flames and the desperate plight of the crew.

The Cabo Torres, a ship which had not heretofore been heard from, announced that she had located and rescued the Cabo Hatteras crew from their lifeboats.

The extent of the damage to the freighter was not known, but was believed to have been great. The Cabo Torres announced she had the stricken vessel in tow.

John Hue, Chef, Fined $50 Upon Girl's Complaint

John Hue, 45, claiming to a Buffalo, N. Y., lake steamer chef, is in jail today in default of a fine of $50 and costs assessed by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley, upon a charge of molesting females.

Hue was arrested in Jackson street by Patrolman Norman McFarland at 7 o'clock last night after he is alleged to have accosted an 11-year-old girl. The child notified her father who caused the man's arrest.

Friends of Hue said that the fine would be paid this afternoon.

Rain and Snow, Then Mostly Fair, Forecast for Week

WASHINGTON, March 5. — Weather outlook for the period March 7 to 12 inclusive:

Ohio Valley—Light rain or snow flurries in the extreme upper Ohio valley Monday, and a period of rather general rains the middle of the week; otherwise mostly fair. Temperature normal or somewhat above most of the week.

ZANESVILLE'S TOURNEY BET

Dover Team Only Obstacle to State Title.

MUSKINGUM COLLEGE, NEW CONCORD, March 5. — Zanesville High school, Ohio state's representative last year at the national scholastic basketball tournament, today looked like a good bet to repeat, with only one hurdle—Dover—remaining in its path to eastern Ohio sectional honors.

Zanesville and Dover are slated to clash this afternoon at 3:45 o'clock in the championship game.

Zanesville eliminated New Philadelphia in the opening round game yesterday afternoon and put the skids under Marietta this morning, 45 to 27.

Dover defeated Cambridge, Martins Ferry and Bellaire to win a place in the concluding battle.

Today's tourney scores:
Dover 35, Martins Ferry 14.
Bellaire 32, Steubenville 18.
Zanesville 45, Marietta 27.
Dover 26, Bellaire 20.

Bethany College Faculty Member Will Speak Here

M. C. A. at 3:45 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. All young men between the ages of 16 and 26 years are invited.

Leroy Foltz Gets Reformatory Term On Assault Charge

Leroy Foltz, East Liverpool telegraph operator, was sentenced to from one to 20 years in the Mansfield reformatory by Judge W. F. Duncan in common pleas court, Lisbon, yesterday afternoon, after he was found guilty upon an indictment charging him with criminally assaulting a 14-year old girl.

This was Foltz's second trial. The jurors in the first trial were discharged Wednesday night when they failed to reach an agreement.

Foltz's wife was in the court room when Judge Duncan pronounced sentence.

1,350 MARINES ARE LANDED IN SHANGHAI

American Colony Warmly Greets "Devil Dogs."

BAND ON JOB

Important Struggle is Developing Near Soochow.

LONDON, March 5.—General Sun Chuan Fang, who has handed over the defense of Shanghai to General Chang Tsung Chang, has sailed for Nagasaki, Japan, taking a half a million dollars from the state treasury with him, according to a Central News dispatch from Shanghai.

SHANGHAI, March 5.—The American colony in Shanghai today declared a half holiday, turning out in force to witness the United States marines from the U. S. S. Chaumont and U. S. S. Pecos parade through the international settlement, the first American troops to be landed.

The famous "devil dogs," led by Colonel Charles Hill, were warmly greeted along their line of march. Preceded by marine band, the "first to fight" men 1,350 strong, constituted an impressive, and to the Americans a reassuring sight.

An important struggle, constituting the Nationalists' final real test of strength, is developing in the vicinity of Soochow where the Nationalists are making a thrust from Chekiang province in an attempt to cut off Shanghai from the main An Kuo-Chun army. The Nationalists obviously intend to seize the Shanghai-Nanking railway thus consolidating their procession before proceeding further toward Shanghai.

General An Kuo-Chun is joyfully preparing for a major engagement. He is rushing reinforcements to Soochow, with the result that a most important clash at Wukiang, near Soochow, is in progress.

Free Methodists' Quarterly Meeting Will Close Sunday

Quarterly meeting of the Free Methodist churches of the Rochester district, which opened in the Avondale Street church, Thursday evening, will close Sunday night.

Pastors and laymen from New Brighton, Rochester, Follansbee, Wellsburg, and Martins Ferry are attending the session.

Rev. A. D. Zahniser, Pittsburgh, general conference evangelist, will preach at the Saturday evening service and will also conduct a missionary rally on Sunday afternoon. Services will be held at the usual hours Sunday morning and evening

AMERICAN MARINES WIN THEIR FIRST "SEA BATTLE" IN SHANGHAI

SHANGHAI, March 5.—The U. S. marines have won their first "sea battle" in Shanghai.

The marines were dispatched to recover a Standard Oil launch which had been commandeered by the disorganized soldiers of Sun Chuan Fang's troops.

With their rifles unslung the "leathernecks" sailed along beside the commandeered launch and demanded its surrender. The Chinese troops aboard, although armed, did not offer to fight but proved themselves good business men and attempted to barter for the surrender of the launch, demanding a price.

The marines were equipped with rifles and bayonets but pay-day having been several hours past they had no money, so they boarded the commandeered launch and hurled the Chinese into the very wet and unpleasant but not dangerously deep river, and took the launch back to its owners.

The marines "lost" one man overboard, but he was rescued and his injuries were only to his feelings and to the depletion of his vocabulary.

moved the bodies over some, so they could no present so ghastly a sight for persons entering the house.

Had committed the murders, Thoma claimed, there would have been tell-tale bloodstains on his clothes. A small stain on one of his knees and some blood on a cheek, he declared, resulted from his moving the dead bodies

Prisoner Was Truck Driver.

Thoma, who was a truck driver, is single. He quit school upon reaching the sixth grammar grade. He is known to prison officials as prisoner No. 56,405.

Since his arrival at the big state prison, Thoma has been reading considerable fiction. Prison officials furnish him with newspapers, magazines and books.

Aside from his readings, his chats with other prisoners, walks in the prison corridor, music from a phonograph, operated by a prison guard, and visits from relatives and the prison chaplain aid materially in keeping up the prisoner's spirit.

Along with the other prisoners, Thoma arises about 6 a. m. and is served with breakfast at 7 o'clock. Bed time and time for "lights out" arrives at 9 p. m.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 5.—Industrial stocks which led the latest rally in prices felt the weight of heavy profit taking and short selling in the abbreviated session of the market today. The scale of prices was slightly higher at the opening, but selling orders flooded the market, and the whole list turned reactionary.

The week end business reports were generally favorable, calling attention to the larger operations of the steel mills, and predicting a prompt revival of spring business at the usual time. The second reduction in crude oil prices was announced by Mid-Continent petroleum buyers; but this was in line with expectations and the effect on the oil stocks was negligible.

Commodity prices have made a slight recession during the week though foodstuffs were unchanged as a whole and copper metal regained more of the ground lost during February. Cotton and grain prices were steady in an inactive and featureless market.

URUGUAYAN FLYERS FOUND

Major Larre-Borges and Colleagues Land at Cape Juby.

PARIS, March 5.—Major Larre-Borges, Uruguayan aviator, who has been lost for three days since he departed from Casa Blanca on the second leg of a trans-Atlantic flight, has been found 60 miles northeast of Cap Juby on the west coast of Africa, according to a meagre report received here today.

No details of the finding of the men were received.

Major Larre-Borges and his colleagues hopped off from Casa Blanca for the Canary Islands but their being located off Cap Juby would indicate they may have changed their plans and headed for West African coast.

The message received here did not state whether Larre-Borges and his colleagues had suffered any injuries or whether they had been in an accident.

A later brief report stated that Major Larre-Borges and his three comrades were all safe.

Special Services In First Methodist Episcopal Church

First week of the special evangelistic campaign in progress at the First Methodist Episcopal church closed last night. Services throughout the week have been largely attended

A crowd, which practically filled the auditorium, was present when Frederick Balmond, evangelistic song leader, directed a children's choir last night. The children sang for about 20 minutes and then took their place in the audience.

Dr. Fowler's sermon was based on the text, "Ye Must Be Born Again."

Special meetings will continue next week with the usual morning and evening services on Sunday. Illustrated songs will be an added feature of the Monday evening service. Mr. Balmond will sing "The Ninety and Nine," and other old hymns, using stereopticon slides.

PASTORS MEET HERE ON MONDAY

The Ministerial association will meet in the Y. M. C. A. at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Rev. A. H. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church, and Rev. E. A. Walker, pastor of the Emmanuel Presbyterian church, will speak on "Miracles and the Book of Jonah."

DEATH ROLL

Logan Funeral Services.

Funeral services for S. K. Logan, 75 years old, will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Miller funeral home, West Sixth street, in charge of Rev. O. L. Benedum, pastor of the Nazarene church. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery. The body can be viewed at the Miller home.

50 DRY AGENTS AND RUM GANG IN GUN BATTLE

Four Bootleggers are Captured, One Wounded in Chicago.

LIQUOR SAVED

Nip Plan to Siphon $500,000 Stock to House.

CHICAGO, March 5.—More than 50 detectives and federal prohibition agents today staged a gun battle with five members of a notorious bootlegging gang, captured four of them and probably wounded a fifth, who escaped. More than $500,000 in pre-war bonded liquor was saved.

The fight occurred at a bonded liquor warehouse after authorities learned attempts would be made to steal the stock.

The rum runners, all members of the William "Klondike" O'Donnell gang, had rigged up siphoning equipment and were pumping the liquor through more than two miles of garden hose to a nearby [illegible] they had rented when the fight began.

O'Donnell and James "Red" Sammons, the leader and lieutenant of the gang, were superintending the operation when, at a given signal, the powerful beams of searchlight were focused upon them.

Immediately the firing began. It was only after their ammunition was exhausted that O'Donnell and Sammons surrendered. John Barry and John Davis were the other members captured.

The warehouse contained the only real pre-war whisky in Chicago agents said. More than $200,000 of the whisky had been siphoned into barrels when the shooting began.

STRAND BOOKS MUSICAL SHOW

"That's My Baby" Company Here Next Week.

The management of the Strand theatre today announced the coming of one of the latest musical hits, "That's My Baby Company," which will appear here next week.

The opening bill, entitled, "Up in the Air," is a comedy drama in three acts—a play in which every line touches a responsive cord in the hearts of its listeners. The story is of a bully and his family, and of the ultimate reformation of the man through his good-natured brother. The comedy is in the hands of the county sheriff.

"Up in the Air" is a typical play of small town life. Several novel musical numbers will be introduced during the action of the play, including the "Scarecrow Dance," "Radium Dance," and the "Dancing Dolls."

During the week this company will present a novel feature in the "Dancing Skeleton."

BE IN CHURCH SUNDAY

"PURPOSE OF INCARNATION," SERMON BY REV. A. H. O'BRIEN

First Baptist Church Pastor Discusses Matthew, Mark Luke and John.

Rev. A. H. O'Brien.

But when the fulness of the times had come, God sent forth His Son, made under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons. Galations 4:5.

The books of the incarnation are four, namely Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

We call them the books of the incarnation because they tell us God came down in the flesh, that is Jesus Christ became man. As the tabernacle was pitched among the children of Isreal, so God in Jesus pitched his tent in our midst. And as God spoke from out the tabernacle to Isreal so spoke to man through and from Jesus God is the times of Isreal's history spoke unto thim by the prophets, but in the period of the four Gospels. He spoke unto man by Christ. The voice at Jordan was, "This is my beloved Son, hear ye Him." So in the four Gospels we see the incarnation and Christ's humiliation, that he might make expiation for sins.

Jesus was not a mere manifestation of God, when here in the flesh, he was God manifest in the flesh.

There have been many manifestations of God in the past and there will be more in the future. But God manifest in flesh is vastly different.

At the openings of the four Gospels, a virgin has conceived and brought forth a son. A great and mighty thing has happened. The miracle of miracles has taken place, God manifest in the flesh, God head in man head. He who made woman is now made of a woman.

I. Prophetic confirmation.

God always keeps His promises. God always works on time.

II. Divine visitation.

Sent forth. His Son. In the old testament times He sent his prophets They were stoned and despised and killed. Now He has sent His Son. He they crucified.

III. Divine incarnation.

To be sure we can not tell the mystery how womanhood brought in God head. But believing is better than tellings, for all who truly are believers receive the blessing of sons.

IV. Place of condemnation.

Jesus was born under the age of the law and the prophets He came under the old covenant. There was no new testament until the end of his earthly life. Then He died, shed his blood which was prefigured in every sacrifice of the tabernacle of Israel. Jesus was made under the law, condemned under the law. All the claims and course of the law fell upon Him and He redeemed us out from that curse of a just and holy law.

V. A divine implantation—That we might receive the adoption of sons. This is the work of regeneration in the impantation of the divine nature. The gospels declare that by believing in Him we have forgiveness of sins and receive eternal life.

Thus we see this text of Paul summarizes the four Gospels. These four Gospels are not things apart fro the prophets but were set forth foretold. Matthew sets forth Jesus as king of the Jews; Mark, the suffering servant of Jehovah; Luke, the seed of the woman; John, the son of God.

As four colors were displayed at the door of the tabernacle so here at the opening of the four Gospels we have purple for the king, red, suffering, giving his life and blood; white for the perfect one and his ability to take away sin; blue as the heavenly person in all the power of God.

In Matthew, we see Jesus, the sovereign one. He is the king of the world. He is offered to the Jew first. Here Jesus is presented as coming into the world to take the highest place known to man.

Mark presents Jesus as suffering, sacrificing, substituting servant. He is always ready for service or suffering, helping everyone lifting others loads. This is the duty of a servant.

Luke pictures Jesus in his humanity, as the seed of the woman In this gospel we see Jesus as the spotless one, sinless humanity. Here we have a gospel from the cradle to the grave. Luke's gospel brings Jesus forth from eternity into humanity. In John's Gospel we have the picture of Jesus as the very son of God.

SEVEN-SENTENCE PULPIT TALKS

—Old Proverb.

The problem of life is not to make life easier, but to make men stronger.
—David Starr Jordan.

He serves his country best
Who lives pure life, and doeth righteous deed,
And walks straight paths, however others stray,
And leaves his sons as uttermost request
A stainless record which all men may read.—Anon.

It may make a difference to all eternity whether we do right or wrong today. — James Freeman Clarke.

He shall deliver thee in six troubles; yea in seven there shall no evil touch thee.—Job 5:19.

We search the world for truth; we cull
The good, the pure, the beautiful,
From graven stone and written scroll,
From all our flower-fields of the soul;
And, weary seekers of the best,
We come back laden with our quest,
To find that all the sages said
Is in the Book our mothers read.—Whittier.

It may be truly said that the record of those three years of active life of Christ has done more to regenerate and soften mankind than all the disquisitions of philosophers and all the exhortations of moralists.
—Lecky.

Q. What is the meaning of all the tiny flags that may be seen fluttering in the gardens in Japan? M. P.

A. These pennants are used to frighten birds, thus protecting the garden. A lath upright is placed about every twenty feet, and a cord carried from post to post. On the cord strips of paper and cloth are tied. The fluttering pennants are, therefore, a graceful adaptation of the scarecrow idea.

Q. What is meant by a source book? F. W.

A. As its name indicates, it is a book containing sources of information on any given subject, including a list of reference books, annotations, and similar data by means of which an exhaustive study of the subject may be made.

Q. If the Star of Bethlehem was not of supernatural origin, what star could it have been? M. C.

A. According to Kepler the "star" in question was probably a conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn in the constellation Pisces, the two planets being so close as to seem like a single star. This conjunction is recorded as having occurred about 7 B. C. and might possibly coincide with the birth of Christ. Another theory is that the star of Bethlehem was a recurrent star the last appearance of which was in 1572 when it appeared in Cassiopeia. This star is reported to appear about every 350 years. A third theory is that the star was Venus which varies in brightness but is the brightest of all known stars.

Q. How many rings did the mummy of Tutankh-amen wear? E. W. K.

A. Thirteen rings were found on his hand. There were eleven bracelets on his arms.

Q. How did Lexington, Virginia, get its name? M. P. W.

A. It was named after Lexington, Massachusetts.

Q. What is the Juilliard Musical Foundation? W. O. S.

A. It is a fund left in charge of trustees for the purpose of promoting musical education and musical performance. At the present time it is estimated at $19,000,000.

Q. Has Germany any large passenger ships in service now—that is any that compare with the Leviathan and the Majestic? F. U.

A. Germany has none at the present time but it is said that the North German Lloyd has recently begun the construction of two 46,000-ton liners. These are to be known as the Bremen and the Europa but will probably not be completed for two years.

Q. What state has the greatest mileage in electric railways? B. O. T.

A. New York in 1922 had a mileage of 4,792.35. Pennsylvania 4,423.08. Nevada had at the some time but 4.52 miles.

"SHARING THE GOOD NEWS," IS SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Gospel's Growth is Really Dependent Upon Witnesses, Says William T. Ellis.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

Newspapers are the most influential form of literature because they present facts. Facts are the basis of all judgments, in legal courts, in public opinion, and in the triumph of truth. So long as correct information is freely disseminated, people will be able to make up their minds intelligently. Back of all scholarship and statecraft and popular movements lie the pertinent facts.

What we know as the world's greatest wonder, the rise and spread and power of Christianity, came about by the simple telling of facts. The Gospel's growth is really dependent upon witnesses, and not upon edifices and organization and institutions. Plain men and women telling what they know have girdled the globe with the Good News. "Ye shall be My witnesses," said Jesus to the group who had first-hand knowledge of Him. To testify to what we know—and to nothing more than we ourselves know—is to become irresistible witnesses of the Gospel.

Neighborhood News, and More

Often the Church has tried to improve upon this simple original plan; and has enlisted worldly authority and might on her side. But the way of Jesus is best. He laid hold of a deep-rooted instinct in human nature, which is to tell news. Everybody likes to share information. Neighborhood gossip, which often is trivial and sometimes is hurtful, is but an expression of this news-telling trait. On a higher plane, the most scholarly quality of great souls is the sense of obligation to share with the world the most important truth they know. A scientist who keeps to himself his discoveries is a monstrosity. Facts are the coin of the realm of knowledge; their circulation is essential to intellectual prosperity. Fine-spirited folk acknowledge the obligation to bear witness to the best that they know: that is how good books get and keep popularity.

In his highest estate, man is a witness. He stands for something. He bears testimony to the best. If I could whisper an earnest personal word to every lover of what is good, I would say that our greatest single weakness as Christians today is that we do not bear outspoken, individual testimony to our knowledge and to our faith. How many readers of these words have ever written a note to an editor, expressing their approval of his stand upon moral issues; or of his paper as a whole; or of individual features?

In their relations with the press and with public officials, Church folk as a whole are unvocal. Yet modern conditions put this duty clearly within the Christian obligation to bear witness. The entire level of the periodical press of the land would be raised were the friends of righteousness half as outspoken and enterprising as others. This condemnation falls especially upon preachers, who are notoriously lax in voicing a "public mind," and even in courteously responding to responsible inquiries for their views. As a class, the clergy are reluctant and unimpressive witnesses, outside of their own pulpits. Above the desk of every Christian might well be written the Scripture's exhortation, "Let the redeemed of the Lord say so!"

The Glow of Engrossment.

As a city man, moving much about the world, I observe a modern phenomenon that depresses me. It is the women who are suffering from ennui. These prosperous but bored wives and widows and divorcees, whose chief concern seems to be "How to reduce," throng the pleasure resorts and the places of amusement. Even with all the time they spend at the "beauty doctors" and in the stores, they are weighed down by idleness. They have nothing to do and nothing to interest them. Small wonder so many of them make as well as talk scandal. Our day's peculiar "woman question" is in large degree a question of lack of real interests in life.

Not so the glowing-hearted Christian. As we scan the New Testament story of the beginnings of Gospel growth, we perceive the ardor and engrossment of the men and women who lived only to tell the Story. They had drawn the sting of weariness and jadedness and emptiness from life. Their days were aglow with interest. They had something great to think about and to do. The constraint to bear witness to the Good News enthralled them. Time was never long enough for the fulfillment of their ambition. All other interests were subordinated to this burning one of spreading the Good News of a Saviour. Enthusiasm filled their hearts, and overflowed on to their lips. They found fellowship with other witnesses their greatest happiness. About their common testimony grew up the greatest brotherhood the world has ever known.

Life's deepest motive was experienced by these testifiers—"The Love of Christ constraineth us." Every other experience, even persecution and pain and prison, slipped into a subordinate place in the presence of this perfect passion. Moreover, as our Lesson further tells, life became rejuvenated for them: "If any man be in Christ Jesus, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." Not only the motive and meaning of life became transformed for the Master's witnesses, but also its mission. Out of former drab commonplaceness they were lifted up to ambassadorial rank: "Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God."

Two Glimpses of Geography.

Like everything else in the Bible, this Lesson has a geographic background. These Scriptural characters were real men and women, with local habitations and names ministering in regions which may still be visited. To get this place sense into our Bible study is to restore the oft-lost note of reality to our religion. Now that my book, "Bible Lands Today" has appeared, I am constrained to write another upon this exhaustless theme of Bible backgrounds. There is no other apologetic quite like this one of the Lands which verify the Book.

One spot, often missed by tourists in the Holy Land, because it is slightly aside from the main road, and necessitates a climb over a ruin-cluttered hill, which is worth crossing the seas to behold, is the site of the old City of Samaria, the scene of the first half of the present Lesson. Here is where Philip preached Christ, and wrought wonders of healing. (Alas, for the continuance of human suffering: a peasant father in the physicianless village which occupies the site of Samaria besought me to heal his son.) On this hilltop are the fallen splendors of Herrod's palace, his throne-room now a threshing floor. Here also the Harvard expedition excavated the remains of the palaces of King Ahab and King Omri, of Israel, for any traveller to see. Samaria is now a ruin, and its ancient glories are gone; but "the word of the Lord endureth forever." Philip's message still triumphs, while Samaria's kings are mere names.

Seen against the background of old Corinth, Paul's majestic precepts, which constitute the second half of our Lesson, take on new meaning and majesty. Every year more and more tourists go to Corinth, usually by automobile over the history-crowded road that leads from Athens, past the Sea of Salamis. So many of the world's great figures—kings, conquerors, caesars, poets, dramatists, sculptors and architects—strutted their parts on the stage which is Corinth that even the most ignorant visitor to the uncovered ruins cannot help contrasting with their transitoriness the enduring triumphs of Paul's peerless principles. Beautiful decadent old Corinth is today the city of Paul's Letters; the proof that in the worst environment the loftiest Christian witness-bearing produces its natural fruit of Christlikeness. Paul's word of testimony outlasts all the temples and palaces of imperial Corinth.

BE IN CHURCH SUNDAY

"PURPOSE OF INCARNATION," SERMON BY REV. A. H. O'BRIEN

First Baptist Church Pastor Discusses Matthew, Mark Luke and John.

Rev. A. H. O'Brien.

But when the fulness of the times had come, God sent forth His Son, made under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons. Galations 4:5.

The books of the incarnation are four, namely Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

We call them the books of the incarnation because they tell us God came down in the flesh, that is Jesus Christ became man. As the tabernacle was pitched among the children of Isreal, so God in Jesus pitched his tent in our midst. And as God spoke from out the tabernacle to Isreal so spoke to man through and from Jesus God is the times of Isreal's history spoke unto thim by the prophets, but in the period of the four Gospels. He spoke unto man by Christ. The voice at Jordan was, "This is my beloved Son, hear ye Him." So in the four Gospels we see the incarnation and Christ's humiliation, that he might make expiation for sins.

Jesus was not a mere manifestation of God, when here in the flesh, he was God manifest in the flesh.

There have been many manifestations of God in the past and there will be more in the future. But God manifest in flesh is vastly different.

At the openings of the four Gospels, a virgin has conceived and brought forth a son. A great and mighty thing has happened. The miracle of miracles has taken place, God manifest in the flesh, God head is in man head. He who made woman is now made of a woman.

I. Prophetic confirmation.

God always keeps His promises. God always works on time.

II. Divine visitation.

Sent forth His Son. In the old testament times He sent his prophets They were stoned and despised and killed. Now He has sent His Son. He they crucified.

III. Divine incarnation.

To be sure we can not tell the mystery how womanhood brought in God head. But believing is better than tellings, for all who truly are believers receive the blessing of sons.

IV. Place of condemnation.

Jesus was born under the age of the law and the prophets He came under the old covenant. There was no new testament until the end of his earthly life. Then He died, shed his blood which was prefigured in every sacrifice of the tabernacle of Israel. Jesus was made under the law, condemned under the law. All the claims and course of the law fell upon Him and He redeemed us out from that curse of a just and holy law.

V. A divine implantation—That we might receive the adoption of sons. This is the work of regeneration in the imantation of the divine nature. The gospels declare that by believing in Him we have forgiveness of sins and receive eternal life.

Thus we see this text of Paul summarizes the four Gospels. These four Gospels are not things apart from the prophets but were set forth foretold. Matthew sets forth Jesus as king of the Jews; Mark, the suffering servant of Jehovah; Luke, the seed of the woman; John, the son of God.

As four colors were displayed at the door of the tabernacle so here at the opening of the four Gospels we have purple for the king, red, suffering, giving his life and blood; white for the perfect one and his ability to take away sin; blue as the heavenly person in all the power of God.

In Matthew, we see Jesus, the sovereign one. He is the king of the world. He is offered to the Jew first. Here Jesus is presented as coming into the world to take the highest place known to man.

Mark presents Jesus as suffering, sacrificing, substituting servant. He is always ready for service or suffering, helping everyone lifting others loads. This is the duty of a servant.

Luke pictures Jesus in his humanity, as the seed of the woman In this gospel we see Jesus as the spotless one, sinless humanity. Here we have a gospel from the cradle to the grave. Luke's gospel brings Jesus forth from eternity into humanity. In John's Gospel we have the picture of Jesus as the very son of God.

SEVEN-SENTENCE PULPIT TALKS

For a web begun God sends thread. —Old Proverb.

The problem of life is not to make life easier, but to make men stronger. —David Starr Jordan.

He serves his country best
Who lives pure life, and doeth righteous deed,
And walks straight paths, however others stray,
And leaves his sons as uttermost request
A stainless record which all men may read.—Anon.

It may make a difference to all eternity whether we do right or wrong today. — James Freeman Clarke.

He shall deliver thee in six troubles; yea in seven there shall no evil touch thee.—Job 5:19.

We search the world for truth; we cull
The good, the pure, the beautiful,
From graven stone and written scroll,
From all our flower-fields of the soul;
And, weary seekers of the best,
We come back laden with our quest,
To find that all the sages said
Is in the Book our mothers read.—Whittier.

It may be truly said that the record of those three years of active life of Christ has done more to regenerate and soften mankind than all the disquisitions of philosophers and all the exhortations of moralists. —Lecky.

Answers to Questions

Address the East Liverpool Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Frederick J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. What is the meaning of all the tiny flags that may be seen fluttering in the gardens in Japan? M. P.

A. These pennants are used to frighten birds, thus protecting the garden. A lath upright is placed about every twenty feet, and a cord carried from post to post. On the cord strips of paper and cloth are tied. The fluttering pennants are, therefore, a graceful adaptation of the scarecrow idea.

Q. What is meant by a source book? F. W.

A. As its name indicates, it is a book containing sources of information on any given subject, including a list of reference books, annotations, and similar data by means of which an exhaustive study of the subject may be made.

Q. If the Star of Bethlehem was not of supernatural origin, what star could it have been? M. C.

A. According to Kepler the "star" in question was probably a conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn in the constellation Pisces, the two planets being so close as to seem like a single star. This conjunction is recorded as having occurred about 7 B. C. and might possibly coincide with the birth of Christ. Another theory is that the star of Bethlehem was a recurrent star the last appearance of which was in 1572 when it appeared in Cassiopeia. This star is reported to appear about every 350 years. A third theory is that the star was Venus which varies in brightness but is the brightest of all known stars.

Q. How many rings did the mummy of Tutankh-amen wear? E. W. K.

A. Thirteen rings were found on his hand. There were eleven bracelets on his arms.

Q. How did Lexington, Virginia, get its name? M. P. W.

A. It was named after Lexington, Massachusetts.

Q. What is the Juilliard Musical Foundation? W. O. S.

A. It is a fund left in charge of trustees for the purpose of promoting musical education and musical performance. At the present time it is estimated at $19,000,000.

Q. Has Germany any large passenger ships in service now—that is any that compare with the Leviathan and the Majestic? F. U.

A. Germany has none at the present time but it is said that the North German Lloyd has recently begun the construction of two 46,000-ton liners. These are to be known as the Bremen and the Europa but will probably not be completed for two years.

Q. What state has the greatest mileage in electric railways? B. O. T.

A. New York in 1922 had a mileage of 4,792.35. Pennsylvania 4,423.08. Nevada had at the some time but 4.52 miles.

"SHARING THE GOOD NEWS," IS SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Gospel's Growth is Really Dependent Upon Witnesses, Says William T. Ellis.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

Newspapers are the most influential form of literature because they present facts. Facts are the basis of all judgments, in legal courts, in public opinion, and in the triumph of truth. So long as correct information is freely disseminated, people will be able to make up their minds intelligently. Back of all scholarship and statecraft and popular movements lie the pertinent facts.

What we know as the world's greatest wonder, the rise and spread and power of Christianity, came about by the simple telling of facts. The Gospel's growth is really dependent upon witnesses, and not upon edifices and organization and institutions. Plain men and women telling what they know have girdled the globe with the Good News. "Ye shall be My witnesses," said Jesus to the group who had first-hand knowledge of Him. To testify to what we know—and to nothing more than we ourselves know—is to become irresistible witnesses of the Gospel.

Neighborhood News, and More

Often the Church has tried to improve upon this simple original plan; and has enlisted worldly authority and might on her side. But the way of Jesus is best. He laid hold of a deep-rooted instinct in human nature, which is to tell news. Everybody likes to share information. Neighborhood gossip, which often is trivial and sometimes is hurtful, is but an expression of this news-telling trait. On a higher plane, the most scholarly quality of great souls is the sense of obligation to share with the world the most important truth they know. A scientist who keeps to himself his discoveries is a monstrosity. Facts are the coin of the realm of knowledge; their circulation is essential to intellectual prosperity. Fine-spirited folk acknowledge the obligation to bear witness to the best that they know: that is how good books get and keep popularity.

In his highest estate, man is a witness. He stands for something. He bears testimony to the best. If I could whisper an earnest personal word to every lover of what is good, I would say that our greatest single weakness as Christians today is that we do not bear outspoken, individual testimony to our knowledge and to our faith. How many readers of these words have ever written a note to an editor, expressing their approval of his stand upon moral issues; or of his paper as a whole; or of individual features?

In their relations with the press and with public officials, Church folk as a whole are unvocal. Yet modern conditions put this duty clearly within the Christian obligation to bear witness. The entire level of the periodical press of the land would be raised were the friends of righteousness half as outspoken and enterprising as others. This condemnation falls especially upon preachers, who are notoriously lax in voicing a "public mind," and even in courteously responding to responsible inquiries for their views. As a class, the clergy are reluctant and unimpressive witnesses, outside of their own pulpits. Above the desk of every Christian might well be written the Scripture's exhortation, "Let the redeemed of the Lord say so!"

The Glow of Engrossment.

As a city man, moving much about the world I observe a modern phenomenon that depresses me. It is the women who are suffering from ennui. These prosperous but bored wives and widows and divorcees, whose chief concern seems to be "How to reduce," throng the pleasure resorts and the places of amusement. Even with all the time they spend at the "beauty doctors" and in the stores, they are weighed down by idleness. They have nothing to do and nothing to interest them. Small wonder so many of them make as well as talk scandal. Our day's peculiar "woman question" is in large degree a question of lack of real interests in life.

Not so the glowing-hearted Christian. As we scan the New Testament story of the beginnings of Gospel growth, we perceive the ardor and engrossment of the men and women who lived only to tell the Story. They had drawn the sting of weariness and jadedness and emptiness from life. Their days were aglow with interest. They had something great to think about and to do. The constraint to bear witness to the Good News enthralled them. Time was never long enough for the fulfillment of their ambition. All other interests were subordinated to this burning one of spreading the Good News of a Saviour. Enthusiasm filled their hearts, and overflowed on to their lips. They found fellowship with other witnesses their greatest happiness. About their common testimony grew up the greatest brotherhood the world has ever known.

Life's deepest motive was experienced by these testifiers—"The Love of Christ constraineth us." Every other experience, even persecution and pain and prison, slipped into a subordinate place in the presence of this perfect passion. Moreover, as our Lesson further tells, life became rejuvenated for them: "If any man be in Christ Jesus, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." Not only the motive and meaning of life became transformed for the Master's witnesses, but also its mission. Out of former drab commonplaceness they were lifted up to ambassadorial rank: "Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God."

Two Glimpses of Geography.

Like everything else in the Bible, this Lesson has a geographic background. These Scriptural characters were real men and women, with local habitations and names ministering in regions which may still be visited. To get this place sense into our Bible study is to restore the oft-lost note of reality to our religion. Now that my book, "Bible Lands Today" has appeared, I am constrained to write another upon this exhaustless theme of Bible backgrounds. There is no other apologetic quite like this one of the Lands which verify the Book.

One spot, often missed by tourists in the Holy Land, because it is slightly aside from the main road, and necessitates a climb over a ruin-cluttered hill, which is worth crossing the seas to behold, is the site of the old City of Samaria, the scene of the first half of the present Lesson. Here is where Philip preached Christ, and wrought wonders of healing. (Alas, for the continuance of human suffering: a peasant father in the physicianless village which occupies the site of Samaria besought me to heal his son.) On this hilltop are the fallen splendors of Herrod's palace, his throne-room now a threshing floor. Here also the Harvard expedition excavated the remains of the palaces of King Ahab and King Omri of Israel, for any traveller to see. Samaria is now a ruin, and its ancient glories are gone; but "the word of the Lord endureth forever." Philip's message still triumphs, while Samaria's kings are mere names.

Seen against the background of old Corinth, Paul's majestic precepts, which constitute the second half of our Lesson, take on new meaning and majesty. Every year more and more tourists go to Corinth, usually by automobile over the history-crowded road that leads from Athens, past the Sea of Salamis. So many of the world's great figures—kings, conquerors, caesars, poets, dramatists, sculptors and architects—strutted their parts on the stage which is Corinth that even the most ignorant visitor to the uncovered ruins cannot help contrasting with their transitoriness the enduring triumphs of Paul's peerless principles. Beautiful decadent old Corinth is today the city of Paul's Letters; the proof that in the worst environment the loftiest Christian witness-bearing produces its natural fruit of Christlikeness. Paul's word of testimony outlasts all the temples and palaces of imperial Corinth.

Juvenile Bible Study

One question for each day is provided. The parent will find it interesting and helpful to have the child take up the question each day and aid it in finding the answer in the Scriptures, thus developing a knowledge of the Bible and where to find in it the things decided. Send or bring the little folks to the class Sunday at 1:45 p. m. The "Ceramic Cafeteria Auditorium," 121 West Fifth Street.

583. As a parable, can it be explained in harmony with God's plan; and if so, how?

Answer: "Now to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, and to seeds, as of many; but, And to thy seed which is Christ." "And if ye be Christ's, then are ye (the church) Abraham's seed and heirs according to the promise." (Galatians 3:16,29) The church class of the gospel age are represented as "the seed of Abraham"; and in this parable the church, taken out from among the gentiles (Acts 15:14), is represented in Lazarus being carried to Abraham's bosom as his "Seed" or child or heir (Galatians 3:29). This class has been in favor with the Lord during the gospel age. Ever since the destruction of Jerusalem and the scattering of the Jews among all nations, they have been tormented and persecuted and have plead for relief ("a drop of water") from the torment ("Fire"). This relief has been asked of so-called Christians—Lazarus.

584. Were the Jews highly favored of God (Rich) before their casting off at the first advent?

Answer: They were. See Romans 3:1,2. "The oracles of God" mean God's word.

585. In what way was Lazarus (The believing Gentiles) poor?

Answer: "At that time ye were without Christ . . . having no hope and without God in the world."—Eph. 2:12.

586. How were the Gentiles shown as poor beggars asking for the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table and the companions of dogs?

Answer: By the remarks of Jesus to the Gentile woman who asked Him to heal her daughter. See Mark 7:25-30.

587. Is there "A great gulf fixed" between the Jews and the Gentiles?

Answer: Yes. The Jews are "blind" to the gospel message and this gulf is fixed "until the fullness of the Gentiles be come in." (Romans 11:25-27). "The fullness of the gentiles" evidently means the full number from the Gentiles to make the 144,000. See Revelation 7:4; 14:1.

588. In what way could it be said that the rich man died?

Answer: The Jews, as a class favored of God in every way, ceased to exist as a nation. Their condition was so changed that they were considered, in the eyes of the Lord, as having passed into HADES, the death state or condition.

589. How could it be said that the Lazarus class died?

Answer: Those Gentiles who were earnestly seeking God's favor were accepted of Him beginning with Cornelius (Acts, 10th Chapter); they ceased to exist as poor beggars and became sons of God—were carried to Abraham's bosom—became "the seed of "Abraham."

EVANGELIST CHARMS EAST

Three poses of Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, whose "conquering" of New York and other cities of the east is ascribed by reporters to her charm. In New York, Mrs. McPherson "stormed the gates of hell," raiding night clubs with exhortations to follow her in the paths of righteousness—and it is said the night club folk followed, at least to her tabernacle. Mrs. McPherson urges the re-establishment of the Bible in the home as one means toward steadying young persons and preventing additional suicides among students.

EVANGELIST CHARMS EAST

Three poses of Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, whose "conquering" of New York and other cities of the east is ascribed by reporters to her charm. In New York, Mrs. McPherson "stormed the gates of hell," raiding night clubs with exhortations to follow her in the paths of righteousness—and it is said the night club folk followed, at least to her tabernacle. Mrs. McPherson urges the re-establishment of the Bible in the home as one means toward steadying young persons and preventing additional suicides among students.

Juvenile Bible Study

One question for each day is provided. The parent will find it interesting and helpful to have the child take up the question each day and aid it in finding the answer in the Scriptures, thus developing a knowledge of the Bible and where to find in it the things decided. Send or bring the little folks to the class Sunday at 1:45 p. m. The "Ceramic Cafeteria Auditorium." 121 West Fifth Street.

583. As a parable, can it be explained in harmony with God's plan; and if so, how?

Answer: "Now to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, and to seeds, as of many; but, And to thy seed which is Christ." "And if ye be Christ's, then are ye (the church) Abraham's seed and heirs according to the promise." (Galatians 3:16,29) The church class of the gospel age are represented as "the seed of Abraham"; and in this parable the church, taken out from among the gentiles (Acts 15:14), is represented in Lazarus being carried to Abraham's bosom as his "Seed" or child or heir (Galatians 3:29). This class has been in favor with the Lord during the gospel age. Ever since the destruction of Jerusalem and the scattering of the Jews among all nations, they have been tormented and persecuted and have plead for relief ("a drop of water") from the torment ("Fire"). This relief has been asked of so-called Christians—Lazarus.

584. Were the Jews highly favored of God (Rich) before their casting off at the first advent?

Answer: They were. See Romans 3:1,2. "The oracles of God" mean God's word.

585. In what way was Lazarus (The believing Gentiles) poor?

Answer: "At that time ye were without Christ . . . having no hope and without God in the world."—Eph. 2:12.

586. How were the Gentiles shown as poor beggars asking for the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table and the companions of dogs?

Answer: By the remarks of Jesus to the Gentile woman who asked Him to heal her daughter. See Mark 7:25-30.

587. Is there "A great gulf fixed" between the Jews and the Gentiles?

Answer: Yes. The Jews are "blind" to the gospel message and this gulf is fixed "until the fullness of the Gentiles be come in." (Romans 11:25-27). "The fullness of the gentiles" evidently means the full number from the Gentiles to make the 144,000. See Revelation 7:4; 14:1.

588. In what way could it be said that the rich man died?

Answer: The Jews, as a class favored of God in every way, ceased to exist as a nation. Their condition was so changed that they were considered, in the eyes of the Lord, as having passed into HADES, the death state or condition.

589. How could it be said that the Lazarus class died?

Answer: Those Gentiles who were earnestly seeking God's favor were accepted of Him beginning with Cornelius (Acts, 10th Chapter); they ceased to exist as poor beggars and became sons of God—were carried to Abraham's bosom—became "the seed of "Abraham."

ESSEX COACH IN SPEED TEST

Super-six Averages Mile a Minute in 14-hour Run.

An average of more than a mile a minute—61.7 miles an hour, to be exact—was achieved by a standard Essex Super-Six coach in a continuous run of nearly 14 hours on a dirt race track at Tanforan, Cal., just outside of San Francisco, according to word received by Ray Birch, East Liverpool distributor.

This record run, said Birch, was made by amateur drivers who are connected with the service department of Stanley W. Smith, the San Francisco distributor for Hudson and Essex cars. The record was made under the supervision of newspapermen. Shortly after the test began, rain fell heavily, loosening the surface of the dirt track so as to interfere seriously with fast time. Writing of the run, one of the newspapermen who acted as an official observer said in part:

"Tanforan track was chosen to make the test of speed and stamina because it was the only available place in Northern California. The track was never designed for anything but horse racing and in the few attempts that have been made in the past to put motor cars over it at high speed, four lives have been lost on the unbanked sharp turns. In addition to these handicaps, the track had lain in disuse for many months. It was overgrown with weeds, its surface rough and full of rain gullies.

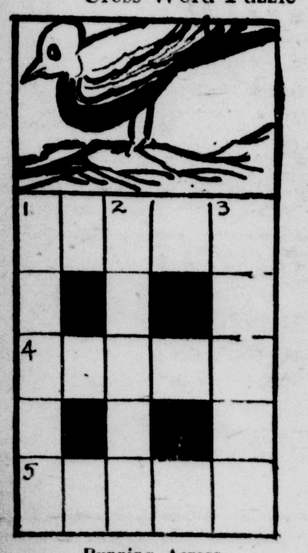

"Added to these difficulties, lowering clouds began to spill rain on the course at the outset and continued at intervals throughout the darkness. With no special equipment except shock absorbers and a spreadlight, the Essex battled these adverse conditions, hour after hour. Its sturdy motor never missed a beat during the long hours of the night. Lap after lap it tore down the backstretch at top speed, ripping into the vicious curves at the neds, straightening out as it slithered through the mud and pounded over the wretched roadbed."

LEAGUE SEASON ENDS NEXT WEEK

May Play Off Postponed Games During Week of March 14.

THE ELKS' county league basketball schedule for next week was still more or less indefinite today, with the exception of the two regularly scheduled games with Lisbon and Salineville.

Both contests billed for this week, one at Salem and one with Columbiana here, were postponed and it is entirely possible that if arrangements are not completed soon both will go over until the week of March 14 when a number of other postponed battles will be played.

The Antlers are scheduled to play in Lisbon on Tuesday night and Salineville will be here on Friday night.

Whether Manager Ray Adam will be able to obtain a playing floor on the short notice that is bound to follow if plans for the Salem and Columbiana tilts are not wound up very shortly, is questionable.

There are now four postponed games on the league schedule, including the two mentioned here and in addition Damascus at Columbiana and Salem at Salineville.

The league season ends next week. The following week possibly will be turned over to the playing of these postponed engagements.

STRIBLING WANTS TIN EAR AND BOY, HE'S GONNA GET IT

George "Young" Stribling and inset of ear friends want him to have.

By Norman E. Brown.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 5.—George "Young" Stribling, Atlanta's heavyweight pride, wants a cauliflower ear.

He wants and needs it more than anything else in the world right now.

And he's gonna get it.

I have it on the word of close friends of Stribling and his new manager, Walt Miller, that he will acquire it. In fact Stribling and Walt were out after it when I hit this town.

And here's the reason for the quest of the tin ear.

Decision of Friends.

Miller and close followers of Atlanta's fistic pride have decided that Stribling's rise in the ring has been checked through his failure to learn how to take it—and fight under fire.

Until the last few months Stribling was managed by his daddy, "Pa" Stribling. Naturally enough the pater didn't want to see his son licked or even messed up. And he also labored under the impression that a long string of victories would be the best thing his son could compile. As a result he was overly careful in matching the youth. Most of his bouts were against setups. Stribling Sr. little realized that his boy wasn't learning a thing in fighting this type.

Most Opponents Easy.

With the exception of his memorable battle with McTigue, which resulted in the six-gun decision, and a couple of fights in New York, Stribling had little competition. And in these New York fights—with opportunity staring him in the face—Stribling failed to make an impression for the simple reason that he was facing a real opponent—and didn't know how to handle himself.

His recent fight with Eddie Huffman was an example. Stribling outclassed Huffman in pure boxing skill, speed and footwork—on paper—but forgot most of what he knew when Huffman began throwing punches at him.

Retains Old Features.

One look at Stribling's face is a tipoff on his career today. He hasn't a mark of any kind to mar his features. His eyebrows have never been puffed by constant pounding of an opponent's glove. His nose is regular and in its natural state. His lips are thin and firm.

His ears are perfect.

Miller, who managed Tiger Flowers and other fighters to some measure of fame at least, has decided that his first move with Stribling is to put the young man through the fire—get him accustomed to "taking it" and fight while accepting what comes his way.

He figures the bout with Huffman helped him that way, although it virtually "killed" him as far as the present scramble to land a fight with Tunney is concerned.

He wants more battles of that kind.

And Stribling's hometown folk are of the opinion that he will make a real fighter out of the boy—who is just out of his teens, although now a daddy.

Training Camp

Nats Meet Braves.

TAMPA, Fla., March 5.—The grapefruit league season opens today with the Senators and Boston Braves engaging in the first real game of the season. Bucky Harris plans to send some of his pitching youngsters to the mound.

Babe Leaves Tonight.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Babe Ruth, the king of swat and the prince of finance, will leave tonight for the Yankees training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla. The Babe will don a uniform on Monday and start whacking homers immediately.

Cohen is "Interpreter."

SARASOTA, Fla., March 5.—Antonio Castro, youthful Cuban catcher who is the latest Giant rookie to report, can speak hardly a word of English. Fortunately, however, a competent interpreter was found in Andy Cohen, the well-known Spaniard.

Roettger Ill.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 5.—The Brooklyn Robins have a serious casualty in Pitcher Oscar Roettger, who is ill with tonsilitis.

Uncle Wilbert Robinson is all worked up over the sensational showing of Harvey Hendrick, who is batting around .700 in practice.

Another Lecture Coming.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5.—The Rev. Billy Sunday, who demonstrated to the Yankees yesterday that he can still deliver base hits, was contemplating another visit today to lecture the boys on an entirely different subject. When Billy donned his vest after batting practice he discovered that his gold watch and chain were missing.

Cubs Rained Out.

AVALON, Catalina Island, Cal., March 5.—The elements still bossed training camp activities of the Cubs today. Serious workouts were impossible on account of the April-like showers. McCarthy and his 31 athletes had to content themselves with pitch-and-catch pastime.

Cole Shows Stuff.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 5.—Bert Cole, new White Sox southpaw, is delighting the heart of Manager Ray Schalk these days by a wonderful display of "stuff." Cole once toiled for the Detroit Tigers with some success. Schalk expects him to win a regular berth.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 5.—A bit sore in body but with unruffled spirit, the Tigers today completed the first week of practice. The pitchers are beginning to cut loose their assortment of curves and fast ones. Moriarty had a complete outfield today with the arrival of Heilmann. Warner, third baseman, also put in his appearance.

Fight Results

AT ST. PAUL, Minn.—Jock Malone, of St. Paul, won technical knockout over Shuffle Callahan, of Chicago, in the seventh round.

AT SAN FRANCISCO—Young Jack Thompson, of Los Angeles, won decision over King Tut, of Minneapolis, ten rounds.

Harry La Barry, of St. Paul, knocked out Eddie White, of San Francisco, in the fourth round.

RUTH PLANNING 'GYM' BUSINESS

Swat King to Launch New Project Next Summer.

NEW YORK, March 5.—It wasn't written that Nero, having seen about everything, decided to throw away his fiddle and get himself a harp; yet the writer was informed today that George H. Ruth, ex-playboy of the western continent, contemplates the establishment of a nation-wide chain of gymnasiums in which conscious virtue will have its reward. George, having failed in a sincere attempt to break down his own arches, now is convinced that the nation's health is the paramount issue.

In effect, the prodigal is about to become the apostle and preach a doctrine of clean living to young and old while the tired business man is provided with a legitimate excuse for weariness.

Details of his designs against the biceps of a nation are in embryo, largely because the boy friend is occupied with other and more pressing matters. One of them is his departure tonight for the Yankees' training camp, a $70,000 a year contract in one hand a parallel bar in the other. This is strictly an innovation, most bars being horizontal.

However, most of the details have been left in the hands of his trainer and business partner, Arthur McGovern. George already has purchased a $15,000 interest in McGovern's New York quarters and will use his new salary to match dollar for dollar with McGovern in the national string of gymnasiums, the latter declared today.

"Ruth would have confined his entire attention to our project if the Yankees had failed to agree on terms with him," McGovern said. "However, there is nothing to prevent him from going into the venture, anyhow and we have agreed to launch it this summer. Some time in June, I will make a swing over the country and, before I return, our tentative plans will have taken shape."

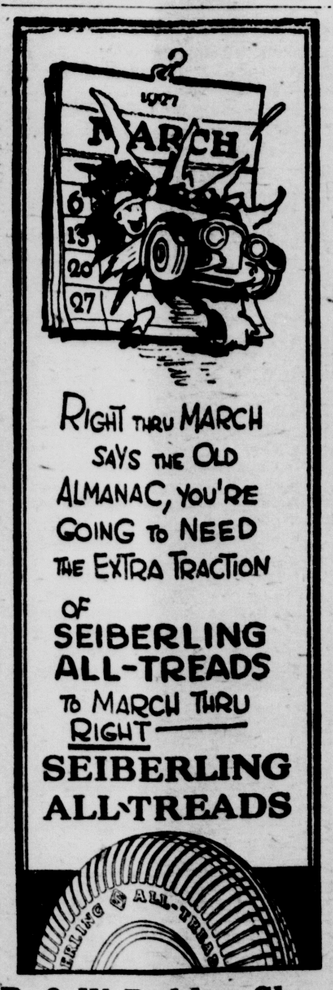

It is understood that the eight American league cities—New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, Washington and St. Louis—will be charter members of the chain in order that George, in making his periodical visitations over the baseball circuit, may be able to assure himself personally that the supply of dumbbells is what it should be. This is very important, as it goes without saying that no gymnasium can hope to flourish unless the dumbbell supply is adequate.

A local custodian, wise in the ways of muscular culture, will be in charge of the supply in each town and will see that it is properly replenished from time to time. As the crop develops, other harvesting centers will be established until the chain reaches from coast to coast. In this way, no dumbbell can escape, which is altogether meet and proper. No dumbbell should.

Practice Game for Tribe.

LAKELAND, Fla., March 5.—A six inning battle between the Regulars and "Yans" will feature today's training program for the Cleveland Indians. Myatt and Autry will divide catching honors, due to the absence of Luke Sewell, while Johnny Hodapp will probably play short in place of Joe Sewell on the regular team. The Sewell brothers are expected to report Monday.

All pitchers on hand are expected to take their turn at hurling during the game.

SHARKEY-MALONEY TO FIGHT IN MAY

NEW YORK, March 5.—Jack Sharkey and Jim Maloney, rival Boston heavyweights who have come through promoter Tex Rickard's elimination tournament with flying colors, will be signed today or Monday for an outdoor bout to be held at the Yankee stadium here during the last wee kin May, according to Rickard's plans.

Rickard hopes to induce Jack Dempsey to meet the winner. If the former champion will not consent to this arrangement, the survivor of the Sharkey-Maloney match will meet Gene Tunney in the fall.

HOPPE IS BEATEN BY FRENCH CHAMP

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Willie Hoppe's stock in the world championship 18.2 billiard tournament dropped somewhat today as a result of his defeat by Felix Grange, the French champion, 400 to 384. Grange had a high run of 184. Edouard Horemans, the Belgian, defeated K. Matsuyama, the Jap, 400 to 356.

Today's matches bring Welker Cochran against Eric Hagenlacher, German, and Jake Shaeffer against the Japanese. Cochran and Shaeffer are as yet undefeated in the tournament.

Michigan Leads Big Ten on Home Stretch

Favored to Tri mChicago Tonight; Buckeyes Expected to "Take" Iowa.

By Gene Hoffman.

CHICAGO, March 5.—The race for the Big Ten conference basketball championship enters the home stretch tonight with University of Michigan riding secure at the head of the pack.

Every team in the Big Ten will get into action tonight at five famous battle zones, scattered over the far reaches of the conference domain.

Michigan engages Chicago here, Northwestern tackles Indiana at Bloomington, Illinois journeys to Wisconsin, Iowa clashes with Ohio State at Columbus and Purdue invades Minnesota.

Of all of these games only one can have any bearing on the championship race, and that only in the event this particular games goes the "wrong way"—from Michigan's point of view. If Chicago should beat the Wolverines and Indiana should defeat Northwestern, it would still be possible for the Hoosiers to cop the title.

But Michigan has not idea of letting such a thing come to pass. The Maroons are one of the weakest aggregations in the conference and the Wolverines expect to "take" them without even extending themselves, saving their reserve for Iowa, to be conquered later.

Michigan now holds a full game lead over Indiana with Purdue and Iowa tied for third place, a half game behind the Hoosiers. In other words the Wolverines are practically "in."

Ohio State is figured to win over Iowa tonight and Indiana's defeat of Northwestern is a foregone conclusion. A victory for Purdue over the weak Minnesota five seems certain. Illinois and Wisconsin goes down as a tossup.

All eyes on Michigan and Chicago.

FINAL Y. M. C. A. CLASH MONDAY

The final game of the Y. M. C. A. basketball league will be played Monday evening, March 7, on the "Y" court with the Y-Indus club and the Bulger Drugs as the contenders.

The contest will start at 8:15.

AT SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—Bill Drako, of New York, won decision over Bill Batey, of Nashville, ten rounds.

'Tex' Wants Giants

"Tex" Rickard, New York fight promoter, after trying to gain control of the New York Yankees, has turned his attention to the New York Giants. "Tex" also has completed arrangements for a sport arena in Philadelphia, with negotiations on for one in Detroit. He has also been considering an extension of his operations in Pittsburgh. Which, with the operation of Madison Square Garden, New York, are a few of things keeping Rickard fairly busy.

JOLLY SIX LOSES TO M. P. SEXTET

The girls' team of the M. P. church defeated the Jolly Six team, 52 to 10, last night at the M. P. court. Finney starred for the winners, while Case was the chief performer for the losers.

DIVORCE CASES BEFORE COURT

Five Actions Dismissed From Record; Two Decrees Issued.

"When a divorce action is called for trial and no one appears they are going to be dismissed from the record," declared Judge W. F. Lones in common pleas court. "We do not want to hold these character of cases over from week to week when no one shows any interest in the cause. Should people filing divorce actions show no interest in them, or defendants fail to file answers or cross petition, there is no use in the court wasting time on them after they have been assigned for trial."

The divorce action filed by Richard M. Beaver filed Nov. 15th last against his wife Myrtle C. Beaver has been dismissed for want of prosecution, and at the costs of the plaintiff.

A similar entry has also been made in the case of Georgia Mercer against Forrest Mercer, an action that was filed July 31st last year, and wherein the plaintiff sought a decree of divorce, alimony and custody of minor children. The action was dismissed from the record at the costs of the plaintiff.

There was no prosecution in the divorce case of Clara B. Anderson against her husband William J. Anderson, and this cause was also dismissed from the record at the costs of the plaintiff. The petition in this case was filed Oct. last.

Isa Myers filed a petition in divorce against Mord Myers, Aug. 11th last, and although this case had been assigned for trial, there was no appearance. The case was dismissed at the costs of the plaintiff.

Bessie Miles filed a petition in divorce against her husband James L. Miles, Sept. 10th last, and also sought alimony and the custody of minors. This case has been dismissed for lack of prosecution at the plaintiff's cost.

On the grounds of gross neglect of duty, Hazel Mae Copenhaver has been granted a decree of divorce from her husband Clem L. Copenhaver. The petition in this action was filed in common pleas court Aug. 24th last, and in it the plaintiff asked the court upon final hearing to restore her to her maiden name Hazel Mae Albright. A journal entry to such effect has been ordered.

Extreme cruelty was charged in the petition for divorce filed by Elizabeth Klamer against her husband Mothew Klamer, and when the case went to trial before Judge Lones, the plaintiff was granted a decree upon the payment of costs. Judgment for costs was returned against the defendant.

William B. Thorne, whose wife May E. Thorne has filed a petition for divorce, has been ordered by the court to pay his wife $40 temporary alimony, $20 of which is to be paid on March 19 and the remainder March 31. In addition Thorne has been ordered to pay his wife $10 per week for the support of minors beginning at once and continuing until further order of court

In the divorce case pending in common pleas court since July 20th last, wherein Hazel M. Weaver is plaintiff and Wallace G. Weaver is defendant, the court has granted leave to the First National bank of Salem to have the latter be made a party defendant in this action.

Leave To File.

In the case of H. C. Aldridge against O. H. Cusick and W. H. Cusick, filed Dec. 15 last for money and the foreclosure of a chattel mortgage, the court has granted leave to the plaintiff to file his answer to the cross petition of O. H. Cusick.

Case Settled.

One of the oldest cases pending in common pleas court was settled without record, when an entry was made by Judge W. F. Lones in the case of the Standard Savings Service against the People's Savings & Loan Co., of Leetonia. The original petition in this case was filed Dec. 8, 1922, and the record shows that the action has been settled at the costs of the defendant.

Suit to Recover.

John S. Beswick and Richard H. Beswick, through their counsel, Billingsley & Moore, have filed an action in common pleas court against Josephine Meacham, of Leetonia, to recover $958.28 claimed to be the balance due on a bill of merchandise sold the defendant at her request. An affidavit in attachment has also been filed with the petition in this case.

Injunction Granted.

An injunction against the City of Salem has been granted, and the corporation has been sued for $5,000 in a petition filed in common pleas court by Susan Schnell and Charles McGonigal, through their counsel, Metzgar McCarty & McCorkhill of Salem.

This is another of the "Campbell Farm" cases, a dozen or more of which similar cases have been filed against the city of Salem during the last year.

Denied New Trial.

A motion for a new trial has been overruled and a judgment on the verdict of a jury for $450.35 has been decreed by Judge Lones in the case of Anna Moldovan against Matei J. Tonja. The plaintiff entered suit against the defendant to recover $400 on a note, and filed her petition Dec. 19, 1924. A jury on Feb. 24th last rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount plus interest.

Seeks Citizenship.

Declaration of intent to become a citizen of the United States has been filed with Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine by Luigi Angelone, 23, whose address is "box 134," East Liverpool. The applicant is a native of Italy, is employed as a fireman and arrived at the port of Philadelphia, March 25, 1921.

Daniel B. Tittle to Della Tittle, lot 1149, East Liverpool, $1.

Zevedei Vacar to Annie Vacar, lot 429 in Street's addition, Salem, $1.

A land patent issued by President Thomas Jefferson at Washington, D. C., Oct. 23, 1801 has been filed for record at Lisbon. The patent was made out in the name of Charles Long, and has to do with a lot in section 13, township eight, first range of lands directed to be sold at Steubenville. The original patent grant was presented to Recorder Paul Smith for recording.

Other real estate transfers of real estate recorded follow: Jefferson Schawl and others to John Pascola, northeast corner of "old factory lot," Salem, $12,000.

William A. Green and others to Ermeno Ricci, lot 270 in Elm Grove allotment, Fairfield township, near Columbiana, $100.

DODGE BROTHERS

Latest Improvements

Study these improvements carefully. Notice how basic they are—how each definitely contributes to the value and desirability of Dodge Brothers Motor Car. And remember—they are IN ADDITION to the new chrome vanadium five-bearing crankshaft, excellent new starting and lighting system and many other improvements recently announced:

A New Clutch—Simple, Prompt, Sure and Silent
Softer Pedal Action
Easier Gear Shifting
Greater Steering Ease
New Body Lines—smart and graceful
New Color Combinations of Striking Beauty
Still Sturdier Bodies
Seats Re-designed for even greater comfort
More Rigid Engine Mounting—providing still smoother motor performance
Improved Propeller Shaft, Differential and Axle Shaft—creating greater sturdiness and dependability
And many other Smart New Refinements of Detail

The effect of these improvements is striking and definite. Smartness, sturdiness, silence and engine performance are brought to a new point of perfection. Buyers are outspoken in their enthusiasm. Investigate for yourself at the earliest opportunity.

Guaranteed Stomach Remedy Makes Big Hit In East Liverpool

Dr. Orth's Stomach Remedy Now Being Sold by All Druggists on the Square Deal Money Back Plan.

Go to your druggist, says Dr. Orth, if you are a sufferer from stomach trouble, and get a handy form package of Dr. Orth's Stomach Remedy—remember the name. Take it according to direction, and if, after taking, you can truthfully say it has done you no good, I don't want your money. Simply take the empty box back to your druggist and get your money back.

So, if you suffer from Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Acidity, Sour Stomach, Gas, Heartburn, Biliousness and Bloating after eating, headache, coated tongue, or pains in Stomach and side, go to your druggist at once and get a box of Dr. Orth's Stomach Remedy, and when you start to take it, realize that you are taking the prescription of a physician who practiced medicine in the States of Pennsylvania and Ohio for sixty years, and that in those years he successfully treated thousands of cases exactly like yours.

Now, if you really want a good, healthy, "never bothers me" kind of a stomach; one that you can always depend upon to digest your food, get a box right away, and remember that it is most rigidly guaranteed.

Special note to out-of-town sufferers—75 cents mailed to the Dr. Orth Laboratories, East Liverpool, Ohio, will bring a box by Parcel Post and guaranteed. You can get it at all good Druggists.

FATAL ACCIDENTS SHOW DECREASE

Fatal accidents in West Virginia were reduced by one half during January, 1927, as compared with the same month of the previous year, according to Archie Forbes, safety engineer for the various mining companies in Logan county.

"More than 500 miners met with fatal accidents in West Virginia mines during 1926," Forbes declared in pointing out that strict adherence to safety rules would be the only factor which would guarantee a lessened death rate for the present year as indicated by the January figures in Logan county.

The work of the numerous safety clubs in the state, Forbes said, has been a great factor in reducing the fatal accidents in West Virginia.

SURPRISE PARTY IN TUCKER HOME

Miss Lyda Tucker was tendered a surprise recently by a number of friends at her home in Grant street. Special features of the evening were vocal selections by Miss Mable Moser and piano numbers by Miss Gladys Mellon.

Lunch was served by Mrs. A. C. Tucker. Out-of-town guests were Misses Francis and Wilma Plotts, Nora Hartford and Margaret Cox of Chester.

Columbiana County Entries Defeated In New Concord Meet

MARIETTA TOPS KLINCK'S FIVE; STUBBERS WIN

Salem Trims Ravenna in Contest at Akron.

Columbiana county's two entries in the eastern Ohio basketball tournament at New Concord, which got under way yesterday morning, were eliminated in the opening round of play when East Liverpool fell before Bellaire, 31 to 27, and Wellsville was conquered by Marietta, 28 to 16.

Both squads are remaining over to see the final games of the tournament.

Salem high went out to win their opening engagement of the northeastern district tourney at Akron, downing Ravenna, 22 to 18.

LEAGUE SEASON ENDS NEXT WEEK

May Play Off Postponed Games During Week of March 14.

THE ELKS' county league basketball schedule for next week was still more or less indefinite today, with the exception of the two regularly scheduled games with Lisbon and Salineville.

Both contests billed for this week, one at Salem and one with Columbiana here, were postponed and it is entirely possible that if arrangements are not completed soon both will go over until the week of March 14 when a number of other postponed battles will be played.

The Antlers are scheduled to play in Lisbon on Tuesday night and Salineville will be here on Friday night.

Whether Manager Ray Adam will be able to obtain a playing floor on the short notice that is bound to follow if plans for the Salem and Columbiana tilts are not wound up very shortly, is questionable.

There are now four postponed games on the league schedule, including the two mentioned here and in addition Damascus at Columbiana and Salem at Salineville.

The league season ends next week. The following week possibly will be turned over to the playing of these postponed engagements.

STRIBLING WANTS TIN EAR AND BOY, HE'S GONNA GET IT

By Norman E. Brown.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 5.—George "Young" Stribling, Atlanta's heavyweight pride, wants a cauliflower ear.

He wants and needs it more than anything else in the world right now.

And he's gonna get it.

I have it on the word of close friends of Stribling and his new manager, Walt Miller, that he will acquire it. In fact Stribling and Walt were out after it when I hit this town.

And here's the reason for the quest of the tin ear.

Decision of Friends.

Miller and close followers of Atlanta's fistic pride have decided that Stribling's rise in the ring has been checked through his failure to learn how to take it—and fight under fire.

Until the last few months Stribling was managed by his daddy, "Pa" Stribling. Naturally enough the pater didn't want to see his son licked or even messed up. And he also labored under the impression that a long string of victories would be the best thing his son could compile. As a result he was overly careful in matching the youth. Most of his bouts were against setups. Stribling Sr. little realized that his boy wasn't learning a thing in fighting this type.

Most Opponents Easy.

With the exception of his memorable battle with McTigue, which resulted in the six-gun decision, and a couple of fights in New York, Stribling had little competition. And in these New York fights—with opportunity staring him in the face—Stribling failed to make an impression for the simple reason that he was facing a real opponent—and didn't know how to handle himself.

His recent fight with Eddie Huffman was an example. Stribling outclassed Huffman in pure boxing skill, speed and footwork—on paper—but forgot most of what he knew when Huffman began throwing punches at him.

Retains Old Features.

One look at Stribling's face is a tipoff on his career today. He hasn't a mark of any kind to mar his features. His eyebrows have never been puffed by constant pounding of an opponent's glove. His nose is regular and in its natural state. His lips are thin and firm.

His ears are perfect.

Miller, who managed Tiger Flowers and other fighters to some measure of fame at least, has decided that his first move with Stribling is to put the young man through the fire—get him accustomed to "taking it" and fight while accepting what comes his way.

He figures the bout with Huffman helped him that way, although it virtually "killed" him as far as the present scramble to land a fight with Tunney is concerned.

He wants more battles of that kind.

And Stribling's hometown folk are of the opinion that he will make a real fighter out of the boy—who is just out of his teens, although now a daddy.

Training Camp

Nats Meet Braves.

TAMPA, Fla., March 5.—The grapefruit league season opens today with the Senators and Boston Braves engaging in the first real game of the season. Bucky Harris plans to send some of his pitching youngsters to the mound.

Babe Leaves Tonight.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Babe Ruth, the king of swat and the prince of finance, will leave tonight for the Yankees training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla. The Babe will don a uniform on Monday and start whacking homers immediately.

Cohen is "Interpreter."

SARASOTA, Fla., March 5.—Antonio Castro, youthful Cuban catcher who is the latest Giant rookie to report, can speak hardly a word of English. Fortunately, however, a competent interpreter was found in Andy Cohen, the well-known Spaniard.

Roettger Ill.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 5.—The Brooklyn Robins have a serious casualty in Pitcher Oscar Roettger, who is ill with tonsilitis.

Uncle Wilbert Robinson is all worked up over the sensational showing of Harvey Hendrick, who is batting around .700 in practice.

Another Lecture Coming.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5.—The Rev. Billy Sunday, who demonstrated to the Yankees yesterday that he can still deliver base hits, was contemplating another visit today to lecture the boys on an entirely different subject. When Billy donned his vest after batting practice he discovered that his gold watch and chain were missing.

Cubs Rained Out.

AVALON, Catalina Island, Cal., March 5.—The elements still bossed training camp activities of the Cubs today. Serious workouts were impossible on account of the April-like showers. McCarthy and his 31 athletes had to content themselves with pitch-and-catch pastime.

Cole Shows Stuff.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 5.—Bert Cole, new White Sox southpaw, is delighting the heart of Manager Ray Schalk these days by a wonderful display of "stuff." Cole once toiled for the Detroit Tigers with some success. Schalk expects him to win a regular berth.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 5.—A bit sore in body but with unruffled spirit, the Tigers today completed the first week of practice. The pitchers are beginning to cut loose their assortment of curves and fast ones. Moriarty had a complete outfield today with the arrival of Heilmann. Warner, third baseman, also put in his appearance.

Fight Results

AT ST. PAUL, Minn.—Jock Malone, of St. Paul, won technical knockout over Shuffle Callahan, of Chicago, in the seventh round.

AT SAN FRANCISCO—Young Jack Thompson, of Los Angeles, won decision over King Tut, of Minneapolis, ten rounds.

Harry La Barry, of St. Paul, knocked out Eddie White, of San Francisco, in the fourth round.

RUTH PLANNING 'GYM' BUSINESS

Swat King to Launch New Project Next Summer.

NEW YORK, March 5.—It wasn't written that Nero, having seen about everything, decided to throw away his fiddle and get himself a harp; yet the writer was informed today that George H. Ruth, ex-playboy of the western continent, contemplates the establishment of a nation-wide chain of gymnasiums in which conscious virtue will have its reward. George, having failed in a sincere attempt to break down his own arches, now is convinced that the nation's health is the paramount issue.

In effect, the prodigal is about to become the apostle and preach a doctrine of clean living to young and old while the tired business man is provided with a legitimate excuse for weariness.

Details of his designs against the biceps of a nation are in embryo, largely because the boy friend is occupied with other and more pressing matters. One of them is his departure tonight for the Yankees' training camp, a $70,000 a year contract in one hand a parallel bar in the other. This is strictly an innovation, most bars being horizontal.

However, most of the details have been left in the hands of his trainer and business partner, Arthur McGovern. George already has purchased a $15,000 interest in McGovern's New York quarters and will use his new salary to match dollar for dollar with McGovern in the national string of gymnasiums, the latter declared today.

"Ruth would have confined his entire attention to our project if the Yankees had failed to agree on terms with him," McGovern said. "However, there is nothing to prevent him from going into the venture, anyhow and we have agreed to launch it this summer. Some time in June, I will make a swing over the country and, before I return, our tentative plans will have taken shape."

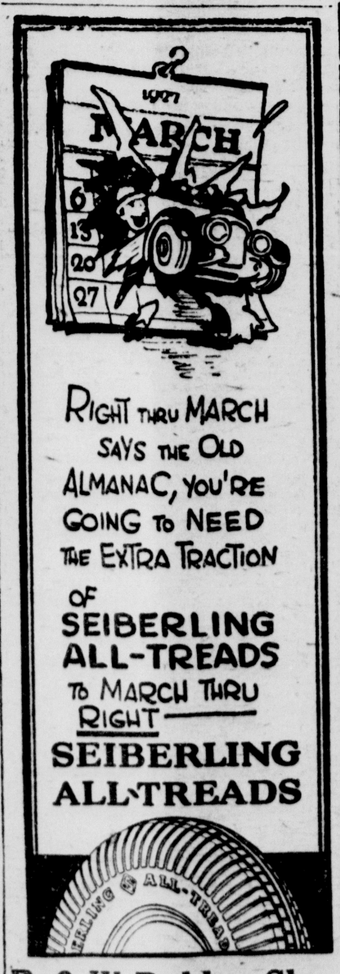

It is understood that the eight American league cities—New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, Washington and St. Louis—will be charter members of the chain in order that George, in making his periodical visitations over the baseball circuit, may be able to assure himself personally that the supply of dumbbells is what it should be. This is very important, as it goes without saying that no gymnasium can hope to flourish unless the dumbbell supply is adequate.

A local custodian, wise in the ways of muscular culture, will be in charge of the supply in each town and will see that it is properly replenished from time to time. As the crop develops, other harvesting centers will be established until the chain reaches from coast to coast. In this way, no dumbbell can escape, which is altogether meet and proper. No dumbbell should.

Practice Game for Tribe.

LAKELAND, Fla., March 5.—A six inning battle between the Regulars and "Yans" will feature today's training program for the Cleveland Indians. Myatt and Autry will divide catching honors, due to the absence of Luke Sewell, while Johnny Hodapp will probably play short in place of Joe Sewell on the regular team. The Sewell brothers are expected to report Monday.

All pitchers on hand are expected to take their turn at hurling during the game.

SHARKEY-MALONEY TO FIGHT IN MAY

NEW YORK, March 5.—Jack Sharkey and Jim Maloney, rival Boston heavyweights who have come through promoter Tex Rickard's elimination tournament with flying colors, will be signed today or Monday for an outdoor bout to be held at the Yankee stadium here during the last week in May, according to Rickard's plans.

Rickard hopes to induce Jack Dempsey to meet the winner. If the former champion will not consent to this arrangement, the survivor of the Sharkey-Maloney match will meet Gene Tunney in the fall.

HOPPE IS BEATEN BY FRENCH CHAMP

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Willie Hoppe's stock in the world championship 18.2 billiard tournament dropped somewhat today as a result of his defeat by Felix Grange, the French champion, 400 to 384. Grange had a high run of 184. Edouard Horemans, the Belgian, defeated K. Matsuyama, the Jap, 400 to 356.

Today's matches bring Welker Cochran against Eric Hagenlacher, German, and Jake Shaeffer against the Japanese. Cochran and Shaeffer are as yet undefeated in the tournament.

Michigan Leads Big Ten on Home Stretch

Favored to Tri mChicago Tonight; Buckeyes Expected to "Take" Iowa.

By Gene Hoffman.

CHICAGO, March 5.—The race for the Big Ten conference basketball championship enters the home stretch tonight with University of Michigan riding secure at the head of the pack.

Every team in the Big Ten will get into action tonight at five famous battle zones, scattered over the far reaches of the conference domain.

Michigan engages Chicago here, Northwestern tackles Indiana at Bloomington, Illinois journeys to Wisconsin, Iowa clashes with Ohio State at Columbus and Purdue invades Minnesota.

Of all of these games only one can have any bearing on the championship race, and that only in the event this particular games goes the "wrong way"—from Michigan's point of view. If Chicago should beat the Wolverines and Indiana should defeat Northwestern, it would still be possible for the Hoosiers to cop the title.

But Michigan has not idea of letting such a thing come to pass. The Maroons are one of the weakest aggregations in the conference and the Wolverines expect to "take" them without even extending themselves, saving their reserve for Iowa, to be conquered later.

Michigan now holds a full game lead over Indiana with Purdue and Iowa tied for third place, a half game behind the Hoosiers. In other words the Wolverines are practically "in."

Ohio State is figured to win over Iowa tonight and Indiana's defeat of Northwestern is a foregone conclusion. A victory for Purdue over the weak Minnesota five seems certain. Illinois and Wisconsin goes down as a tossup.

All eyes on Michigan and Chicago.

FINAL Y. M. C. A. CLASH MONDAY

The final game of the Y. M. C. A. basketball league will be played Monday evening, March 7, on the "Y" court with the Y-Indus club and the Bulger Drugs as the contenders.

The contest will start at 8:15.

AT SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—Bill Drako, of New York, won decision over Bill Batey, of Nashville, ten rounds.

'Tex' Wants Giants

"Tex" Rickard, New York fight promoter, after trying to gain control of the New York Yankees, has turned his attention to the New York Giants. "Tex" also has completed arrangements for a sport arena in Philadelphia, with negotiations on for one in Detroit. He has also been considering an extension of his operations in Pittsburgh. Which, with the operation of Madison Square Garden, New York, are a few of things keeping Rickard fairly busy.

JOLLY SIX LOSES TO M. P. SEXTET

The girls' team of the M. P. church defeated the Jolly Six team, 52 to 10, last night at the M. P. court. Finney starred for the winners, while Case was the chief performer for the losers.

M. P.		Jolly Six.
Gaskill	F	R. Case

AT WORCESTER, Mass. — Tony Mandell won decision over San Sanchez, of Mexico, ten rounds.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON CLUB

Mr. John Pack, Head of the Department of Dramatics at Bethany College, will dramatize the Story of Joseph.

This Club is an organization conducted for young men by young men every Sunday Afternoon at 3:45 P. M. in the Y. M. C. A.

TO EVERYONE WHO EXPECTS TO BUY A CAR THIS SPRING: CONSIDER OLDSMOBILE

When you buy your car this spring ... select.

Select in the fullest literal meaning of the word, which is "to choose by comparison" ... just as you do with other things you buy.

Single out the cars that suit your tastes and meet your needs ... compare their prices ... then make selection on the basis of relative values.

By all the standards of modern engineering, there is a definite limited number of known factors of motor car merit. Compare the list of these features as in any other car—no matter what its price. Check these known factors of motor car merit in Oldsmobile and you will immediately be impressed with how emphatically it is qualified to gratify your finer tastes as well as satisfy your every need.

Go over Oldsmobile features, one by one. Come to your Oldsmobile showroom and see this car. Drive it ... and thrill to its brilliant performance.

Then, and only then, can you select with justice to yourself, your purse and your sense of satisfaction.

WILL OBSERVE LENTEN SEASON

Special Sermon Series Prepared by Rev. R. W. Ustick.

Beginning Sunday evening Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, will deliver a series of sermons preparatory to Easter Sunday.

Announcing his sermon series, Rev. Ustick asserts that "the Lenten season is becoming more and more an opportunity of turning the thoughts and attention of the church to th deeper spiritual things. There are many possibilities of deepening the spiritual life connected with the 40 days before Easter."

A word concerning the possibilities of Lent will be spoken Sunday evening in connection with the sermon.

The schedule of the six special services preceding Easter follows:

"There They Crucified Him"—Sermon studies of some men and The Man, as viewed in the light of the cross.

March 6—"The Apostle with the Broken Neck."

March 13—"The High Priest Who Gave Counsel."

March 20—"The Governor Who Washed His Hands of Blood."

March 27—"The Ruler Who Wanted Jesus to do a Trick."

April 3—"Simon of Cyrene Who Was Passing By."

April 10—"The Man Who Could Not Save Himself."

Special music will be arranged for these services.

MARIETTA BOYS CAPTURE FAST GAME, 28 TO 16

Orange and Black Give River Quint Close Battle.

VICTORS DOWNED

Zanesville, Contender for Honors, Sets Fast Pace.

Making their first appearance in the eastern Ohio Class A basketball tournament, Wellsville scholastic passers went down to defeat yesterday afternoon before the strong Marietta high five by a score of 28 to 16.

The Orange and Black quint gave the down river aggregation a close battle during three quarters of the engagement, but was unable to stem a brilliant attack by the Washington county lads in the concluding period.

Marietta later was defeated by Zanesville, last year's Ohio representative at the national tournament and a strong contender for the same honor this year.

The Wellsville lineup included Dickey and Provost at forwards; Calhoun at center; and Buckley and Terry at guards.

Practically all of the squad was new to tournament play but, nevertheless, gave a good account of themselves considering their inexperience.

The team is scheduled to return home tonight after the final game for the championship.

CHURCH PLANS SPECIAL MEETS

Follansbee Minister to Conduct Two-week Revival.

Rev. William Grafton, of Follansbee, W. Va., will conduct a series of revival services, beginning Sunday night in the Free Methodist church Seventeenth street, Rev. L. C. Andre, pastor, announced today.

The meetings will continue for two weeks.

Sunday school will convene tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, followed by preaching at 10:30.

Song and praise service will be held at 7 p. m. and preaching at 7:45.

Prayer meeting is scheduled for Thursday at 7:30 p. m., and class meeting Friday at 7:30 p. m.

GIRLS' CIRCLE IS ENTERTAINED

Members of the Girls' circle of the Missionary society of the First Christian church were entertained last night at the home of Mrs. Miriam Wolgamutt, in Tenth street.

A coverdish supper was served. Miss Ruth Henthorne was leader and the topic was, "The Ten Foreign Mission Fields."

The next meeting of the circle will be held on March 18 at the home of Miss Ruth Henthorne in Center street. Lucella McFall will be the leader.

Hodnett Funeral Monday.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ophelia Hodnett, 33 years old, who died yesterday morning in the East Liverpool hospital, will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Baptist church, Commerce street, in charge of Rev. G. W. White, pastor. Burial will be made in Spring Hill cemetery.

In addition to her father, Rev. James A. Austin, of Pittsburgh, and her husband, she is survived by two children, Beatrice and Gordon; a sister, Mrs. Penobia Gaddis, of Pittsburgh, and three brothers, James and Heondon, in Virginia, and Gordon, of Bluefield, W. Va.

SALINEVILLE

The following representatives of the Saline ville Presbyterian church attended the final banquet of the layman's campaign for the pension fund at Steubenville in the Westminster church, Tuesday evening: Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Martin, Mrs. Besse Ashbaugh, Mrs. Martha Patterson, Allen Maple, C. R. Randolph, Charles Johnson and William Eason. Fred Morrow and A. H. McCombs represented the Monroeville church. The quota of the Monroeville church was $66. They reported 18 pledge cards, with $300, possibly the farthest over the top of any church in the presbytery. The quota for Saline ville was $873. The chairman of the committee reported 43 pledges, amounting to $815, leaving a balance of $58. The committee guaranteed the balance, putting the Saline ville church over the top.

The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Presbyterian church met in the home of Mrs. Martha Patterson Wednesday evening. After the devotional service a business session was held, followed by the election of officers for the church year beginning April 1. They are: President, Mrs. Charles Johnson; vice president, Mrs. J. B. Hutson; secretary Mrs. Martha Patterson; secretary of literature, Mrs. Miller Henderson; treasurer, Mrs. Mabel H. Martin; sunshine treasurer, Mrs. Rose Heatherington; auditing committee, Mrs. Lillie Johnson, Mrs. Nan Martin and Mrs. Lizzie Boring; committee on program, Mrs. W. S. Martin, Mrs. Blaine Patterson and Mrs. A. Lange. Mrs. Nancy Ann Martin was in charge of the home topic, "Foreign Speaking Peoples." Foreign topic, "Japan," was in charge of Mrs. Helen James. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Ruth Green.

Mrs. Besse Ashbaugh and Mrs. James Willis were visiting in East Liverpool Wednesday.

Rev. W. S. Martin was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hutson at their country home east of town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nelems and sons, Robert and Warren, and daughter, Dorothy, of Pittsburgh, Pa., were week-end guests of Mrs. J. B. Hutson and Mrs. J. E. Wirebaugh.

Henry Williams was in East Liverpool Tuesday visiting his brother-in-law, George Tolson, a patient in the City hospital.

The Young Ladies' Missionary society, Division No. 1, of the United Presbyterian church, will serve dinner in the dining room in the church Wednesday evening, March 9.

The Linger Longer club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Ruth Mayle on North street, Tuesday evening spending an hour in fancy work, then a social hour, during which the hostess served lunch, assisted by her daughters, Evelyn and Martha.

William Gould, of Foundry Hill, who has been suffering from an attack of grip, is slowly improving.

Mrs. Rose Heatherington is reported to be ill.

Cage Date Undecided.

Date for the playing of the postponed game with the Steubenville girls' team is still indefinite, officials of the local colored girls basketball squad announced today. The game originally was scheduled for February 26 on the M. E. floor but decorating work under way at the church made the use of the floor impossible.

Boy Scout Meet Monday.

Members of the Boy Scout troop of the First United Presbyterian church will meet on Monday evening and the boys' clubs will convene on Tuesday night.

Mission Society to Convene.

Women's Missionary society of the First United Presbyterian church will meet next Friday evening in the church parlors.

Visit In Pittsburgh.

Misses Rebecca Altman and Minnie Rabinovitz, of Broadway, were Pittsburgh visitors today.

bearing dirt. The great dome soon stood empty.

For real digging, see the Utah copper mines, close to Union Pacific tracks at Bingham Canyon, Utah. The digging done under army engineers, constructing the Panama canal, was considered extraordinary. But every day Utah copper mining engineers move out more tonnage than was taken out of the Panama cana in one day of the most entensive operations. To avoid making tunnels the top of a great cooper-mearing mountain has been peeled off. Hugh electric shovels chip off the "capping or over-burden," uncovering the ore that is blasted out in terraces, picked up by shovels and loaded on cars carrying out as much as 80,000,000 pounds of it in one day.

Wonderful wealth, yes, but there are in the United States many brains from which more wealth has been taken than will ever come out of that mountain of copper. Explore your own head, there may be something in it.

Navy Department Denies any Marines Slain in Nicaragua

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Emphatic denial was made by the navy department today that any American marines have been killed in clashes in Nicaragua, as reported by travelers arriving in Los Angeles on the steamer Venezuela.

The only marine injured thus far in Nicaragua, it was stated, was a single man who lost an eye through the accidental explosion of a loose cartridge.

It can hardly longer be charged that the automobile will cause people to forget how to walk. The parking problem has obviated that danger.—Marion Star.

GIVE PAGEANT AT M. P. CHURCH

Program Will Feature Annual Thank Offering Services.

The annual thank offering services of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Protestant church will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

An impressive pageant, entitled "Hold Me Close to Thy Cross," will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Oliver Cummings, by the following characters:

(A Chinese family in Chinese costume).

Wang Sin, the father—Glenn Weekley.

Mei Yu, the mother—Mrs. Wilbert Urie.

Bi Onga, daughter—Wavelyn Kiggans.

Lee Chow, a son—Harry Kiggans.

Lang A, child—Pauline Urie.

Ong U, a child—Francis Urie.

American missionaries—Rev. James Allen, Verle Mellett; Mrs. James Allen, Eva Mann.

The music which accompanies the pageant will be sung by a mixed quartet composed of Mrs. Charles Lewis, Mrs Earl Adams and Messrs. E. M. Householder and J. M. Culp.

MUSKIES LAND COURT HONORS

Muskingum college basketball team, of which Clifford Orr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Orr, Broadway, is one of the important cogs, is the championship outfit of the Ohio conference.

Akron university had a chance to get in on the title plum prior to Thursday night's game with Baldwin-Wallace, a second division outfit, but they permitted the Bereans to get away with a 31-30 victory and the Zippers' chances at the crown faded.

With twelve games won and one lost, Muskingum cannot be overhauled even should Western Reserve win its final game tonight while Akron not only saw its hopes for a conference title dashed but now faces the possibility of dropping to third place behind Denison.

Orr has played a forward berth with the Muskies all season with the exception of several games toward the close of the campaign when illness kept him out of the lineup.

Granted Leave to Answer.

In the $50,000 damage case filed in common pleas court by Herbert Keown of Pittsburgh, Pa., against the Pennsylvania railroad Co., the court has granted the defendant leave to file an answer on or before March 26. The plaintiff was injured when a Ft. Wayne train being detoured over the Cleveland & Pittsburgh division was wrecked near Summitville early last year.

SHOW DICKENS STORY IN FILM

Irondale high school will show Charles Dickens' story, "The Cricket on the Hearth" on Monday evening, March 7.

Josef Swickard outdoes his famous role in "The Four Horsemen" by his portray of Caleb Plummer. Virginia Brown Faier is beautiful as the little Mrs. Perrybingle and Fritzie Ridgway as Blind Bertha is one of the strongest characters. Other stars in the cast almost bring Tackleton, Tilly Slow Boy, May Fielding, Edward and the others live again.

JUNIOR PASSERS WIN CAGE TILT

The Wellsville Junior high school basketball team defeated the Chester Junior high school team, 32 to 25, in a close contest on the local high school court this morning.

YATTI TO FACE LIQUOR COUNT

Slated for Hearing Tonight on Possession Charge.

Arrested yesterday afternoon on a liquor charge, Dominick Yatti is a prisoner in the city hall jail here, awaiting a hearing before Mayor W. L. Fogo, tonight.

Yatti, charged with possessing intoxicating liquor, was arrested by Chief of Police John Fultz at Thirteenth and Commerce street.

John Newato, of Irondale, arrested by Patrolman Pugh on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, is scheduled for a hearing tonight.

FATAL ACCIDENTS SHOW DECREASE

Fatal accidents in West Virginia were reduced by one-half during January, 1927, as compared with the same month of the previous year, according to Archie Forbes, safety engineer for the various mining companies in Logan county.

"More than 500 miners met with fatal accidents in West Virginia mines during 1926," Forbes declared in pointing out that strict adherence to safety rules would be the only factor which would guarantee a lessened death rate for the present year as indicated by the January figures in Logan county.

The work of the numerous safety clubs in the state, Forbes said, has been a great factor in reducing the fatal accidents in West Virginia.

SURPRISE PARTY IN TUCKER HOME

Miss Lyda Tucker was tendered a surprise recently by a number of friends at her home in Grant street. Special features of the evening were vocal selections by Miss Mable Mosser and piano numbers by Miss Gladys Mellon.

Lunch was served by Mrs. A. C. Tucker. Out-of-town guests were Misses Francis and Wilma Plotts, Nora Hartford and Margaret Cox of Chester.

WELLSVILLE HIGHS DEFEATED IN CAGE TOURNEY

WILL OBSERVE LENTEN SEASON

Special Sermon Series Prepared by Rev. R. W. Ustick.

Beginning Sunday evening Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, will deliver a series of sermons preparatory to Easter Sunday.

Announcing his sermon series, Rev. Ustick asserts that "the Lenten season is becoming more and more an opportunity of turning the thoughts and attention of the church to th deeper spiritual things. There are many possibilities of deepening the spiritual life connected with the 40 days before Easter."

A word concerning the possibilities of Lent will be spoken Sunday evening in connection with the sermon.

The schedule of the six special services preceding Easter follows:

"There They Crucified Him"—Sermon studies of some men and The Man, as viewed in the light of the cross.

March 6—"The Apostle with the Broken Neck."

March 13—"The High Priest Who Gave Counsel."

March 20—"The Governor Who Washed His Hands of Blood."

March 27—"The Ruler Who Wanted Jesus to do a Trick."

April 3—"Simon of Cyrene Who Was Passing By."

April 10—"The Man Who Could Not Save Himself."

Special music will be arranged for these services.

MARIETTA BOYS CAPTURE FAST GAME, 28 TO 16

Orange and Black Give River Quint Close Battle.

VICTORS DOWNED

Zanesville, Contender for Honors, Sets Fast Pace.

Making their first appearance in the eastern Ohio Class A basketball tournament, Wellsville scholastic passers went down to defeat yesterday afternoon before the strong Marietta high five by a score of 28 to 16.

The Orange and Black quint gave the down river aggregation a close battle during three quarters of the engagement, but was unable to stem a brilliant attack by the Washington county lads in the concluding period.

Marietta later was defeated by Zanesville, last year's Ohio representative at the national tournament and a strong contender for the same honor this year.

The Wellsville lineup included Dickey and Provost at forwards; Calhoun at center; and Buckley and Terry at guards.

Practically all of the squad was new to tournament play but, nevertheless, gave a good account of themselves considering their inexperience.

The team is scheduled to return home tonight after the final game for the championship.

In addition to her father, Rev. James A. Austin, of Pittsburgh, and her husband, she is survived by two children, Beatrice and Gordon; a sister, Mrs. Penobia Gaddis, of Pittsburgh, and three brothers, James and Heondon, in Virginia, and Gordon, of Bluefield, W. Va.

SALINEVILLE

The following representatives of the Salineville Presbyterian church attended the final banquet of the layman's campaign for the pension fund at Steubenville in the Westminster church, Tuesday evening: Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Martin, Mrs. Besse Ashbaugh, Mrs. Martha Patterson, Allen Maple, C. R. Randolph, Charles Johnson and William Eason. Fred Morrow and A. H. McCombs represented the Monroeville church. The quota for the Monroeville church was $66. They reported 18 pledge cards, with $300, possibly the farthest over the top of any church in the presbytery. The quota for Salineville was $873. The chairman of the committee reported 43 pledges, amounting to $815, leaving a balance of $58. The committee guaranteed the balance, putting the Salineville church over the top.

The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Presbyterian church met in the home of Mrs. Martha Patterson Wednesday evening. After the devotional service a business session was held, followed by the election of officers for the church year beginning April 1. They are: President, Mrs. Charles Johnson; vice president, Mrs. J. B. Hutson; secretary Mrs. Martha Patterson; secretary of literature, Mrs. Miller Henderson; treasurer, Mrs. Mabel H. Martin; sunshine treasurer, Mrs. Rose Heatherington; auditing committee, Mrs. Lillie Johnson, Mrs. Nan Martin and Mrs. Lizzie Boring; committee on program, Mrs. W. S. bearing dirt. The great dome soon stood empty.

For real digging, see the Utah copper mines, close to Union Pacific tracks at Bingham Canyon, Utah. The digging done under army engineers, constructing the Panama canal, was considered extraordinary. But every day Utah copper mining engineers move out more tonnage than was taken out of the Panama cana in one day of the most entensive operations. To avoid making tunnels the top of a great cooper-mearing mountain has been peeled off. Hugh electric shovels chip off the "capping or over-burden," uncovering the ore that is blasted out in terraces, picked up by shovels and loaded on cars carrying out as much as 80,000,000 pounds of it in one day.

Wonderful wealth, yes, but there are in the United States many brains from which more wealth has been taken than will ever come out of that mountain of copper. Explore your own head, there may be something in it.

Navy Department Denies any Marines Slain in Nicaragua

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Emphatic denial was made by the navy department today that any American marines have been killed in clashes in Nicaragua, as reported by travelers arriving in Los Angeles on the steamer Venezuela.

The only marine injured thus far in Nicaragua, it was stated, was a single man who lost an eye through the accidental explosion of a loose cartridge.

It can hardly longer be charged that the automobile will cause people to forget how to walk. The parking problem has obviated that danger.—Marion Star.

MUSKIES LAND COURT HONORS

Muskingum college basketball team, of which Clifford Orr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Orr, Broadway, is one of the important cogs, is the championship outfit of the Ohio conference.

Akron university had a chance to get in on the title plum prior to Thursday night's game with Baldwin-Wallace, a second division outfit, but they permitted the Bereans to get away with a 31-30 victory and the Zippers' chances at the crown faded.

With twelve games won and one lost, Muskingum cannot be overhauled even should Western Reserve win its final game tonight while Akron not only saw its hopes for a conference title dashed but now faces the possibility of dropping to third place behind Denison.

Orr has played a forward berth with the Muskies all season with the exception of several games toward the close of the campaign when illness kept him out of the lineup.

Granted Leave to Answer.

In the $50,000 damage case filed in common pleas court by Herbert Keown of Pittsburgh, Pa., against the Pennsylvania railroad Co., the court has granted the defendant leave to file an answer on or before March 26. The plaintiff was injured when a Ft. Wayne train being detoured over the Cleveland & Pittsburgh division was wrecked near Summitville early last year.

DIVORCE CASES BEFORE COURT

Five Actions Dismissed From Record; Two Decrees Issued.

"When a divorce action is called for trial and no one appears they are going to be dismissed from the record," declared Judge W. F. Lones in common pleas court. "We do not want to hold these character of cases over from week to week when no one shows any interest in the cause. Should people filing divorce actions show no interest in them, or defendants fail to file answers or cross petition, there is no use in the court wasting time on them after they have been assigned for trial."

The divorce action filed by Richard M. Beaver filed Nov. 15th last against his wife Myrtle C. Beaver has been dismissed for want of prosecution, and at the costs of the plaintiff.

A similar entry has also been made in the case of Georgia Mercer against Forrest Mercer, an action that was filed July 31st last year, and wherein the plaintiff sought a decree of divorce, alimony and custody of minor children. The action was dismissed from the record at the costs of the plaintiff.

There was no prosecution in the divorce case of Clara B. Anderson against her husband William J. Anderson, and this cause was also dismissed from the record at the costs of the plaintiff. The petition in this case was filed Oct. last.

Isa Myers filed a petition in divorce against Mord Myers, Aug. 11th last, and although this case had been assigned for trial, there was no appearance. The case was dismissed at the costs of the plaintiff.

Bessie Miles filed a petition in divorce against her husband James L. Miles, Sept. 10th last, and also sought alimony and the custody of minors. This case has been dismissed for lack of prosecution at the plaintiff's cost.

On the grounds of gross neglect of duty, Hazel Mae Copenhaver has been granted a decree of divorce from her husband Clem L. Copenhaver. The petition in this action was filed in common pleas court Aug. 24th last, and in it the plaintiff asked the court upon final hearing to restore her to her maiden name Hazel Mae Albright. A journal entry to such effect has been ordered.

Extreme cruelty was charged in the petition for divorce filed by Elizabeth Klamer against her husband Mothew Klamer, and when the case went to trial before Judge Lones, the plaintiff was granted a decree upon the payment of costs. Judgment for costs was returned against the defendant.

William B. Thorne, whose wife May E. Thorne has filed a petition for divorce, has been ordered by the court to pay his wife $40 temporary alimony, $20 of which is to be paid on March 19 and the remainder March 31. In addition Thorne has been ordered to pay his wife $10 per week for the support of minors beginning at once and continuing until further order of court.

In the divorce case pending in common pleas court since July 20th last, wherein Hazel M. Weaver is plaintiff and Wallace G. Weaver is defendant, the court has granted leave to the First National bank of Salem to have the latter be made a party defendant in this action.

Leave To File.

In the case of H. C. Aldridge against O. H. Cusick and W. H. Cusick, filed Dec. 15 last for money and the foreclosure of a chattel mortgage, the court has granted leave to the plaintiff to file his answer to the cross petition of O. H. Cusick.

Case Settled.

One of the oldest cases pending in common pleas court was settled without record, when an entry was made by Judge W. F. Lones in the case of the Standard Savings Service against the People's Savings & Loan Co., of Leetonia. The original petition in this case was filed Dec. 8, 1922, and the record shows that the action has been settled at the costs of the defendant.

Suit to Recover.

John S. Beswick and Richard H. Beswick, through their counsel, Billingsley & Moore, have filed an action in common pleas court against Josephine Meacham, of Leetonia, to recover $958.28 claimed to be the balance due on a bill of merchandise sold the defendant at her request. An affidavit in attachment has also been filed with the petition in this case.

Injunction Granted.

An injunction against the City of Salem has been granted, and the corporation has been sued for $5,000 in a petition filed in common pleas court by Susan Schnell and Charles McGonigal, through their counsel, Metzgar McCarty & McCorkhill of Salem.

This is another of the "Campbell Farm" cases, a dozen or more of which similar cases have been filed against the city of Salem during the last year.

Denied New Trial.

A motion for a new trial has been overruled and a judgment on the verdict of a jury for $450.35 has been entered by Judge Lones in the case of Anna Moldovan against Matei J. Monja. The plaintiff entered suit against the defendant to recover $400 on a note, and filed her petition Dec. 19, 1924. A jury on Feb. 24th last rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount plus interest.

Seeks Citizenship.

Declaration of intent to become a citizen of the United States has been filed with Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine by Luigi Angelone, 23, whose address is "box 184," East Liverpool. The applicant is a native of Italy, is employed as a fireman and arrived at the port of Philadelphia, March 25, 1921.

Daniel B. Tittle to Della Tittle, lot 1149, East Liverpool, $1.

Zevedei Vacar to Annie Vacar, lot 429 in Street's addition, Salem, $1.

A land patent issued by President Thomas Jefferson at Washington, D. C., Oct. 23, 1801 has been filed for record at Lisbon. The patent was made out in the name of Charles Long, and has to do with a lot in section 13, township eight, first range of lands directed to be sold at Steubenville. The original patent grant was presented to Recorder Paul Smith for recording.

Other real estate transfers of real estate recorded follow: Jefferson Schawl and others to John Pascola, northeast corner of "old factory lot," Salem, $12,000.

William A. Green and others to Ermeno Ricci, lot 270 in Elm Grove allotment, Fairfield township, near Columbiana, $100.

Guaranteed Stomach Remedy Makes Big Hit In East Liverpool

Dr. Orth's Stomach Remedy Now Being Sold by All Druggists on the Square Deal Money Back Plan.

Go to your druggist, says Dr. Orth, if you are a sufferer from stomach trouble, and get a handy form package of Dr. Orth's Stomach Remedy—remember the name. Take it according to direction, and if, after taking, you can truthfully say it has done you no good, I don't want your money. Simply take the empty box back to your druggist and get your money back.

So, if you suffer from Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Acidity, Sour Stomach, Gas, Heartburn, Biliousness and Bloating after eating, headache, coated tongue, or pains in Stomach and side, go to your druggist at once and get a box of Dr. Orth's Stomach Remedy, and when you start to take it, realize that you are taking the prescription of a physician who practiced medicine in the States of Pennsylvania and Ohio for sixty years, and that in those years he successfully treated thousands of cases exactly like yours.

Now, if you really want a good, healthy, "never bothers me" kind of a stomach; one that you can always depend upon to digest your food, get a box right away, and remember that it is most rigidly guaranteed.

Special note to out-of-town sufferers— 75 cents mailed to the Dr. Orth Laboratories, East Liverpool, Ohio, will bring a box by Parcel Post, and guaranteed. You can get it at all good Druggists.
